With almost 2,000 students enrolled in KHS, the new school year was definitely unique.

The start of school brought on so much spirit. During pep rallies, the gym could hardly contain the student body and their enthusiasm. Confetti and spirited colored faces stood out among the crowds.

Due to new state policies, the school was not able to hold a pep rally for every game. However, students still participated in the pep rallies that were held before and after school. In any event, the spirit was overwhelming

The seniors dominated the first pep rally by winning the spirit stick. They had finally made it to the top and they wanted everyone to know that this was their year.

The Varsity football players also started their own tradition-The Tradition Of Winning. For them, it was "The Year Of The Tiger"

Finally after four years, Katy could be proud of its winning season. After defeating the Taylor Mustangs, the Tigers took on the bragging rights of Katy. The undefeated Tigers brought on a new enthusiasm to both the school and the whole town.

Proudly, Katy left its mark on the branded plaque that was displayed throughout the remainder of the year.

The 35-18 massacre was definitely an event that highlighted the year.

Focusing . . .

On What's Happening!

Outrageousness!

Rebel spirit soared throughout the opening of school and with the excitement came many activities.

So many activities have happened to make this year unique.

The Tiger Echo staff dedicated your yearbook to the theme, "Focusing On". The student body is what makes up the entire yearbook. So this year we are focusing on you.

We only hope that we have been able to focus on all the memories that have made this year-unique!

Homecoming came early this year and the fighting Tigers were able to do something that they haven't been able to do in a long time.

On October 3, the Katy Tigers defeated the Mayde Creek Rams in a 27-6 victory.

Homecoming week made up some of the most outrageous days of the year. The week included a variety of dress-up days. Everything from Combat Day to Nerd Day was included.

Friday was reserved for wearing red and white and almost everyone was involved. Girls wore paper footballs saying "Mums the word". Throughout the day they tried to keep from talking to the guys. The guy with the most footballs was awarded the title, "Mr. Irresistible". Senior John Dehlin received the honor.

But probably the most important honor of all went to LaTonya Marsh, who was crowned Homecoming Queen.

After game raps

Tuning into the music

Of all the places to go on a Friday night it is a surprise when most of the students of Katy High pile into the commons. This strange occurence took place after every home football game.

With Katy's great football record the turnout at the victory dances was incredible.

"I never really started going to the after-game dances until the football team started to do so well," stated Lonnie Adams, sophomore.

Everyone from the football players to the drill team and cheerleaders showed up. Even some Kikkers were seen mingling around in the corners.

The music that was provided depended on the sponsors of each dance. The dee-jays ranged from Chad McMillan and John Dehlin to K-disc. Since so many different types of groups attended each dance, the music also ranged. Music from George Strait to The Book of Love was heard.

The dances started at 10 p.m. until midnight. Many students left to go eat at Pizza Hut.

"I always enjoyed the victory dances but I also had fun going to hang out with my friends, afterward," said John McClure, senior. By Pam Petillon

Homecoming '86

The Excitement Mounted

When Homecoming '86 rolled around in early October the Tigers had an outstanding record of 4-0. Everyone from parents to the coaches were positive about the homecoming game played against Mayde Creek. Since Mayde Creek had been the newest school to be in the 17-5A district many schools had picked them to play against them for their Homecomings.

September 27 through October 4 was probably one of the most exciting weeks of the high school year. The cheerleaders sponsored dress-up days from Monday to Friday. Monday was 50's day, Tuesday camoflauge day, Wednesday toga day, Thursday nerd day, Friday red and white day.

The girls that were on the Homecoming Court were seniors Lori Crenwelge, LaTonya Marsh, Renee Zellweger, Kristi Norwood, Kim Theriot, and Susan Cate.

On Friday night LaTonya Marsh was crowned Homecoming Queen. She was a varsity cheerleader and active in such organizations as S.H.O.U.T. With the Tigers' 27-6 victory over the Rams everyone was in terrific spirits for the Homecoming dance on Saturday night.

"I had a great time at the game and the dance. It was the best Homecoming I have ever had," stated Debi Frazier, junior.

Lori Crenwelge, one of the girls on the Homecoming court said, "Everyone is so excited that LaTonya was crowned Homecoming Queen. It was one of the most exciting moments."

"I thought it was great when Katy beat Mayde Creek. It was also exciting because it was the first Homecoming that we have won since I have been in high school," said senior Tami Warnken.

Almost Perfect

So Close, And Yet So Far

When the Katy Tigers hit the Astrodome floor on Saturday, November 15, to take on the Madison Marlins, the Big Red machine was pumped up and ready to go. After 22 years, the Tigers went into the first round of the Texas High School Playoffs.

The town of Katy roared its support by bringing over 10,000 proud fans to the dome to cheer on the 'Men in the Red.'

"It was exciting being in the playoffs and being able to play in the dome. We made history for Katy High School," said Rusty Sarver, senior.

"Everybody had a real good attitude going into the game. We were all confident we could win," said Danny Wiggins, senior.

However, the Tigers were not in top form. They committed seven turnovers and allowed the Marlins to score on two long plays.

Although the Katy gridiron stars fell short on the scoreboard, they fought hard and hit the Marlins to the best of their ability.

Wiggins added, "We went out in the first half and didn't play as well as we knew we were capable of playing. Then we went out in the second half and scored on our first possession. After that, we did gain some confidence back."

Several errors such as turnovers and mental mistakes contributed to the team's loss. The offense turned the ball over only ten times throughout the whole season and had seven turnovers in the Madison game.

"I don't think it was the errors that hurt us the most. I think it was the inexperience of being in the playoffs," said Sarver.

He also added, "The 10-0 season showed how much we worked during off-season, the summer, and during the season. We set one of our goals as District Champs and never wanted anything less. I think it was a remarkable achievement for the team; it showed the determination of the squad and the ability of the players we had this year."

Even though this unexpected loss was hard to swallow, the Tigers had a tremendous reason to be proud. They set many records, achieved many goals, and pleased a lot of fans in route to a 10-0 regular season. Their first playoff appearance in 22 years was unsuccessful, but the Tigers of 1986 were a proud, strong, and courageous group of men.

Getting revved up with Spirit!

The theme "The year of the Tiger" seemed to tie everything in last year as the mighty fighting Tiger football team rolled over its opponents. Katy High School's spirit soared.

HB 72 eliminated much of the fun by only allowing high schools so many pep rallies a year. But even House Bill 72 couldn't ruin Katy's spirit. Pep rallies became louder and rowdier each time the students were allowed to have one.

The freshmen class had a rough start but by the third pep rally they were chanting and cheering right along with the varsity cheerleaders.

Tricia Orsak, senior, stated, "Katy has really come a long way this past year. Our football team did great, and the pep rallies were very exciting."

"Many more juniors and seniors have been doing the cheers with us," said Tiger mascot Kim Rhymes .

"It was a great year for pep rallies. Our school was enthusiastic and very spirited," said sophomore, Chantel Thomas.

" The weekends in Katy may not have much going on, but I always have fun finding my friends and messing around," stated Lesley Ross, senior.

Friday and Saturday nights brought a variety of things to do for students. Some preferred to go out and just have fun with their friends, others liked to go down Westheimer.

"I do not like to go down Westheimer and I do not like to bowl so I usually find all of my friends out at a party," stated junior David Chance .

Different places to go also included Visions, V.F.W. dances, the bowling alley, movie theatre, and out to dinner.

"Unless you have a steady boyfriend the kids at Katy don't date a lot. I usually went out with my best friends," junior Theresa Diebold said.

"On every other Saturday night there was a V.F.W. in Katy so my friends and I went out there to dance," said sophomore Leslie Lambright.

Although everyone had something different to do on the weekends the most important thing not going on was school.

Productions

The Katy High School's speech and drama department had a very successful year. Their production of Sam Spewack's comedy "Under the Sycamore Tree" was a huge success with everyone.

"I really thought the play was very funny. It also made me cry. The crew was excellent and they really did a good job of acting," said Romer Austria, senior.

The leading actor in the play was senior Jim Goldsmith and the leading actress was Lanell Pena also a senior.

"The crew and cast were under a lot of pressure, due to the short production period. However, judging from the feedback of the audience, we feel we had a show to be proud of," stated senior, Jim Goldsmith

Mrs. Smith, the speech teacher, stated, "We picked this play because both groups liked it, the actors and the audience."

The production was directed by Mrs. Smith and Mr. Williams.

Happy Holidays

When the school year started in early September, students were very reluctant to think of having to be in a classroom from 7:40 until 2:40. Halloween and Thanksgiving soon passed and Katy High School life was going quite smoothly when the Christmas holidays rolled around.

"School had become so routine right before Christmas holidays, everyone needed the two week break," stated sophomore, Heather Jones.

"Even though the Christmas dance was held on December 18, a school night, many students showed up," Charles Munson, senior, said.

As Christmas day came and went everyone began to prepare for New Year's Eve. Many parties were held on December 31. "I had the best time at Mike Orrson's party on New Year's Eve even though we had to break it up before midnight," stated junior Theresa Diebold.

Preparing for the future

On Monday, October 20, 1986 about 25 representatives from a variety of Texas colleges came to inform and meet the students of K.I.S.D.

Students walked around to the college of their choice and received information on financial aid, majors and minors, and most important of all, campus life.

College night was held at Katy High School last year. It was coordinated by the KHS counselors. As senior counselor, Mrs. Lueders stated, "I felt that there was a very good turnout and a fair amount of college representation at college night." By Pam Petillon.

One hundred Katy High School juniors and seniors were chosen at random and asked if they had jobs and how it affected their grade point average.

Senior Hannah Krishnia said, "Employers don't realize that I go to school from 7:40-2:40 then I have to work for them from 4 p.m. 'til 11 p.m. I think that they should take into consideration that I do have homework and tests to study for."

Forty-nine students asked said that they had jobs, and twenty-nine of those students did in fact say that their job did affect their GPA in a negative way.

Senior Danny Wiggins added, "I hate my job because it interferes with my social life and it doesn't pay much."

"I have a really good job at Foleys. I'm an extra on call and that means I call in, and pick my own hours. It helps a lot picking my own hours, because I have time for homework and for my social life," commented Laura Ramm, senior.

"I have an easy job, however, I have to learn to put up with a lot of abuse from know-it-all managers," said junior Leon Muller. "But if you don't learn to take it you you won't make it now or in the future," he added.

Trading Places

For one very strange night in the middle of January, the guys finally received the chance to relax that they deserved. This opposite night was referred to as Sadie Hawkins.

"I'm so glad that someone made up Sadie Hawkins because it helped me to save some money," stated sophomore Brent Thompson.

The girls from KHS had to find a special guy, ask him out, buy matching shirts and most importantly, had to pay for the date.

"I had such a great time at Sadie Hawkins. I wish it would be more than once a year," said junior Chad Prince.

The Sadie Hawkins dance was sponsored by The Tiger Echo and The Tiger Tribune. There was a tremendous turnout.

"Everyone that I know had such a great time. I liked the photographer they had there the best. Their pictures turn out so well," Karen Korb, junior, said.

Let's Party

"All the hard work and effort we put in to making this dance a success certainly paid off!" Student Council member Lisa Warren said. The Hawaiian Dance bounced off Friday, May 22, in the KHS Commons. Festivities included playing volleyball, a giant game of Twister, the Limbo, and of course, dancing.

The dance was sponsored by Student Council. Advanced photography students took pictures of couples or groups of friends. "I feel that this dance was just as good as last year's," said member Christy Jones. "I hope that the yearly Hawaiian Dance will continue to be just as great as this one."

Easy Money

The 44th annual KISD Livestock Show and Rodeo turned out, as expected, to be a great success. However, because of Houston's economy recession, many of the sale prices for the livestock were down this year.

"Everyone had such a great time during the sale because it is exciting to compete for grand champion," stated Jennifer Stoelke, sophomore.

The Grand Champions were as follows:
Steers — Scott Letterman
Hogs — Holly Conlan
Chickens — Gail Khrojak
Lambs — Elizabeth Dyer
Rabbits — Trey Thompson

The carnival and show held March 12-14 was considered one of the best events of the year.

The whole town was involved Saturday as the parade marched by. Every organization could be seen from the drillteam to Hutsell Elementary school children.

"I think that the carnival was the best part of the whole weekend," stated Dwight Gross, sophomore.

The long stretch limo pulls up slowly to the door of the Warwick Club in downtown Houston. As the chauffeur stops the car behind a silver Lincoln town car, the town car pulls away. Inside, the two couples, stomachs full and hopes high for the evening yet to come, toast their prom glasses to celebrate . . . the Senior Prom of 1987.

Arriving at the Adams Mark Hotel on Westheimer, the girls fixed their makeup and the guys straightened their bow ties. The town car was parked in one of the last spots of the lot next to a black jaguar.

Inside the hotel, beautiful prom dresses and tuxedos of all kinds could be found. The senior class of 1987 and their guests were spending an evening of sophistication and romance. The air was filled with the smell of perfume and the latest dance and slow songs could be heard over the talking. Among the crowded dance floor, which was filled with dancers, were other couples relaxing around the '87 sculptured in ice in the center of the room.

As fast song after fast song was played one or two country songs could be distinguished over U2 and Dead Or Alive. All the kikkers ran out to the dance floor to two step to George Strait while everyone else colled down with a coke or a homemade Blue Bell Sundae.

One a.m. came quickly . . . "time flies when you're having fun." Couples paired off once again to leave the Adams Mark, went home to change clothes and then left to go skiing at Lake Somerville or to Galveston on Sunday. Hugs and kisses along with quite a few flowing tears were given to dates and friends as the prom song "This is the time to remember" was played.

The senior class of 1987 was together for the last time on May 2, 1987 and it was definitely a time to remember.

The Time To Remember

May 2, 1987 was an important day for the seniors of Katy High and a handful of privileged guests. The KHS '87 prom was held at the Adams Mark Hotel on Westheimer.

The prom began at 9 p.m. and ended at 1 a.m. Before the prom started, couples dined at a variety of restaurants in Houston. Phillip Dautrich said, "Dawn and I went to the Warwick Club by Hermann Park with two other couples."

"Ed and I ate at Tony's," Yvonne Salce said. Rhett Baker added, "I had a dinner catered to my house for my date."

Pictures were taken by Life-Touch, a Houston photographer. "The setting was nice at prom, but they seemed to be in such a rush," Stacia Glenn said.

Music was provided by Big Audio Dynamite Dee Jay's. "The music at prom was so good. I wish more country songs would have been played, though," Tami Warnken said. However, Stacey Scott added, "Prom had much better music this year compared to last year."

For the senior class of 1987, the prom turned out to be the best time for many people. "I loved the way everyone looked all dressed up," Debi Frazier, junior, said. "It is hard to have to wait for my prom," she added.

"The Time to Remember" was the perfect theme for such a great night. The seniors have one more memory to put away, the senior prom.

"I know so many people who had the best time at prom. No wonder. We're the class of '87 . . . the best," John Dehlin said.

Many dreams came true on that very special and romantic evening in May. At least the seniors could experience this night together for one of the last times. "If only for one night".

Gifts were exchanged between many of the sponsors of organizations and the members. "Mrs. Henson and the cheerleaders all exchanged gifts," Sara Leonard, junior stated.

Although not all KHS organizations were invited to attend the banquet due to the size of the cafeteria they were still recognized as part of the school.

Coach Mike Johnston said, "It was not just a time for recognizing good players, but a time to celebrate a great year."

"The sports banquet is such a great time. All the fall sports can get together and be recognized," stated senior Susan Cate.

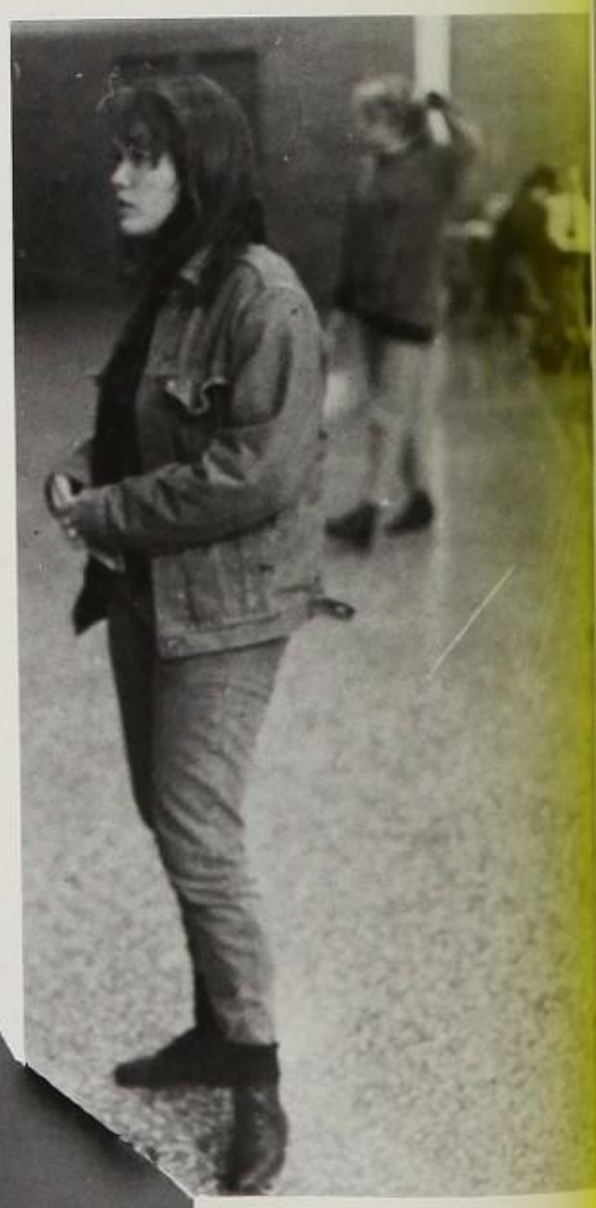
What's in! What's hot!



The old saying that fashion is constantly changing and revolving with looks from the past becoming the look of tomorrow is increasingly expressed by the fashions of today.

The students of Katy wore many different styles this past year. The most popular it seemed was silver jewelry. Other items included Reebok tennis shoes, faded Guess jeans, and baggy oversized sweatshirts.

Most of the styles worn this year had brand names such as Generra, Guess, Benetto and ACA Joe.

Although clothes at KHS changed drastically from one school year to the next, the most popular style was up to the individual.

"Many people wore their own style of clothing. Whatever their mood was that day their clothes certainly matched it," stated senior Holly Mewis.

"Everyone always wanted to buy all the expensive clothes not because they personally liked them but because they thought it was in fashion. That was not necessary," stated sophomore Becky Kessler.

Tigers hold back 'stangs 35-18

On October 11, an estimated 10,000 people filled up Rhodes Stadium to attend one of the most important games of the year. At the designated time, the Tigers began their attack on the Taylor Mustangs. After four years of remaining the underdog, the Tigers held back the Mustangs and came out victoriously with a 35-18 win.

Many of the football players agreed that this game was ultimately very important. Both teams went into the game undefeated.

"The Taylor game was physical. In fact, it was the most physical game we've played this year. Its importance was great because it was the turning point of our season. If we would have lost, we would have lost our momentum. As it turned out we won and we're a great team!" said Pete Luna, senior, and corner back for the Tigers.

Ed Ortega, senior, added, "There's nothing like beating your archrivals."

In the first half of the game, the Tigers led the game with 21 points. Myron Robinson, sophomore, scored the first touchdown on an eight-yard run.

Danny Wiggins, senior, led the offensive aerial in receiving with 6 catches. Wiggins gained a total of 157 yards and three touchdowns, throughout the game.

Outstanding offensive players were quarterback, John Brayton, Robinson, and Wiggins. Exceptional defensive players were David Temple, Rhett Baker, Thomas Nguyen, and Luna.

Luna described the team, "I believe this year's team was willing to sacrifice and do whatever it took to be a championship team."

The Taylor game was probably our most emotional game, because we have never beat them before. Offensively it was our best game all season," said Rhett Baker, senior, defensive back.

The Katy-Taylor game left the Tigers with a 6-0 record, but this was only the beginning. The dominating Tigers would later go on to achieve their 10-0 goal and win the District Championship title.

Tigers Clinch District Title

Undefeated season

"This year's team had a lot of unity and pride and that certain urge to be #1," said Danny Wiggins, senior.

Just about everybody on this year's Varsity team felt that it was time to bring a winning tradition to Katy, and with that goal in mind, the mighty fighting Tigers set out to clinch the District Championship spot. With an undefeated season, they brought on a new spirit to Katy High.

"I think the record speaks for itself; being District champs is a great achievement for the players of Katy High," said Ed Ortega, senior.

Several football players contributed greatly to the Tiger's victories. Dube Yell, junior, rushed for at least 1,000 yards, the first Katy running back to do so in a long time. Chad McMillan, senior, played a threat to every team's defense.

Yell placed first team running back on the district team. McMillan by unanimous choice, was voted first team defensive tackle. McMillan was also nominated for the Greater Houston Area Touchdown Club.

Other players elected to the 1986 17-5A All-District first team were John Brayton — quarterback, Danny Wiggins — wide receiver, Mike Brast — center and defensive tackle, Pete Luna — defensive back and place kicker, and David Temple — linebacker.

Head coach Mike Johnston was selected for "Coach of the Year," in the 17-5A district area.

The team's attitude was great throughout the entire season. They were able to keep the momentum of winning. Though each game brought on new challenges, the Tigers continued to work hard and get the job done.

"We were not individuals, we were a team. We won and lost as a team," said Luna, senior.

"Everybody on the team hated losing and blocked out any thought of it. Like in our first district game against Spring Woods, we were behind 12-10 going into the fourth quarter. Everybody knew something had to be done to come out victorious and we won 18-12," said Wiggins.

Third in district

team falls short of district title

"One of the highlights of the season was our tie with Memorial," said Coach Tom Ward about the Junior Varsity football team. Ward added, "Although our offense did not score, the defense did not allow a strong team like Memorial to score."

The Tiger J.V. team placed third in district. Their district record was 5-2-1.

Offensive team leaders were Scott Thompson, Todd Ruk, Rhett Middlebrook, Kevin Baker, and Kelley Toney. Defensive leaders included Osman Sabari, Trey Glaze, Edgar Pedron, and Bridman Arlarca.

"I feel we had a very successful season. We were very disappointed about losing our chance at a district championship. We had a couple of bad breaks and we didn't play as a team should've," said Kelley Toney, junior.

Toney added, "We did feel we had the best team in district and would have clinched first if we would have eliminated some important mistakes."

One of the goals of the team was to improve as a football team as the year progressed and for the most part they did.

Scott Thompson, junior, added, "We had a great effort from everybody on the team this year. If the offense wasn't getting the job done the defense would come through for us and vice-versa. This season helped build the character we will need on a team for next year's Varsity."

Ben Keel, junior, said, "We had a good team! We just had some bad breaks. We should form a good foundation for Varsity next year."

Ready for War

Leadership emerges

"They were not satisfied with just showing up. They were ready to go to war and come back with a victory," said Coach John Peace about the sophomore football team.

"It was a long, hard season, but a good learning experience," said Trey Medlock, sophomore.

The team experienced a season in which they passed through some growing pains. A number of sophomores moved up to the Varsity and J.V. level. "We learned that we had to play together," said Jamie Vana, sophomore.

"It was a year in which they had to search for new leadership within their group," said Peace.

The season record stood at 3-5 and the district record at 1-5. The key game of the season was the sophomores' victory over Cy-Creek.

Outstanding offense players included Lance Dotson, Jason Downey, and Charlie Hughes. Cory Ketchum excelled within the interior line.

Jonas Woods, sophomore, displayed an excellent defensive performance, while Toby Maples proved to be a valuable secondary player.

"The team had to establish new leadership roles and responsibilities. Overall they gained positive things from their experience and responded well to the challenge only to become better football players," said Peace.

Deep Desire To Win

Both teams executed well

"They both had a deep desire to do whatever it took to win," said freshman coach Greg Reece.

"Overall the freshmen had a successful season," said Reece.

The "A" team ended their season with an outstanding record. Their season record stood at 8-1, district at 7-1. The "B" team's season record was 5-2 and the district standing was 4-2.

The "A" team, as well as the "B" team, suffered a loss to Elsik High School. Reece commented, "Losing to Elsik made both teams realize the importance of intent practices."

Yet, undoubtedly, the highlight of the season was beating Taylor High School!

Reece concluded, "The two teams, as a whole, had good athletic ability and were very coachable. In other words they executed like they were coached to do."

Tradition

Sr.'s advance to all-district

"We did quite well this year considering the lack of experience we had. This year we started a winning tradition for the years to come," said Laura Ramm, senior.

The team's season record was 15-12, and the district record was 10-6.

"The climax of the season was when we played Taylor three times and beat them every time," said Coach Ellen Beck. The Varsity volleyball team placed fourth in district. All three seniors, Laura Ramm, Parva Bezrutczyk, and Evelyn Allen were picked to play on the Junior National Olympic team in California.

Ramm and Bezrutczyk went on to make the all district team. Ramm made first team all district and Bezrutczyk made second team all district.

"Even though our team was young, Mrs. Beck helped us to achieve the goals that we set. As a team we played together and had a fulfilling and exciting year," said Evelyn Allen.

The goals of the team were to play to the best of their ability and to finish high in district.

Bezrutczyk commented, "Despite the fact that we knew there would be a rebuilding year, everyone tried their best to make it a winning season. We were very proud of the accomplishments that were achieved."

Undefeated in District

The JV Volleyball team had an extremely excellent season. With a district record of 16-0 and a 23-3 overall record, the team placed first.

"We had such a unified team. We were able to put anyone in our line-up, play as a team, and most importantly we were able to win," said Coach Marianna McNamara.

"The team was able to reach every goal they set. We wanted to retain our team unity. Also, once we knew we could go undefeated in district our goal was to stay that way. We wanted to keep improving each week and learn something new," said McNamara.

The climax of the season was the team's first tournament at Bellville, in which they placed first.

"We beat East Bernard, who beat us earlier in the season, to win the tournament. After that tourney we knew we could go play with the best," McNamara said.

"This was the most fun team I have ever been on," remarked Laura Griffin, junior.

Vicki Wahl, sophomore, added, "Being and staying friends is what kept us together as a team."

Tina Castillo, sophomore, concluded, "We had a very successful season."

District Champs

The freshman girls' volleyball team finished the season with a first place standing in district. Lanie Prugar, freshman, said, "I think that we deserved to win first place in district because we really worked hard as a team and our great coach, Ms. Reese, helped us do it."

The team's district record was 12-4 and the seasonal record was 15-6.

The freshman volleyball team had a real good time this year and since we won district we had a slumber party at our coach's house," said Melissa Lewis, freshman.

"The team was dedicated to winning district. They worked hard on and off the court to maintain our winning ways," said Coach Rhonda Reese of the girls' freshman volleyball team.

"We started out winning and we finished winning. I enjoyed our improvement in offense toward the end of the season. Our attack was smooth and strong," Reese said.

The climax of the season was beating Taylor High School twice.

"Despite finishing first with a 12-4 record, I still felt our district record should have been better. However, I was very proud of this team for maintaining enthusiasm throughout the year," Reese said.

A Rare Breed

"It's tough, but there is no greater feeling than finishing," seemed to be the attitude of the 1986-87 cross country runners.

Coach Janet Bauer has coached the team for the last two years. During the course of the year, both teams attended six meets. The teams were unsatisfied with some meet outcomes, but the overall feeling was of satisfaction. The most improved runners of the season were freshmen Joshua Jacobi and Joya Schamp.

District, which was held by Spring Branch, ended in an unfavorable outcome. Because of many injuries, runners were unable to run up to their potential. Joya Schamp finished 11th, with an excellent season.

In order to stay in shape, both teams had to maintain a vigorous weekly workout. For instance, the boys team averaged 15 miles daily and occasionally lifted weights. The girls also lifted weights and averaged 10 miles daily.

"I think in a few years our cross country team will improve tremendously. There was a lot of talent on this team," said Steve Collins, junior.

"Sometimes I wonder why I do it, but it's fun," commented Raul Martinez, senior.

The cross country team was not able to enter as a team, in each meet. Runners entered as individuals, due to a lack of a certain amount of runners required to make a team.

Coach Janet Bauer summed up the athletes and their season, "These kids were definitely a rare breed. As runners they all worked for their individual goals and achieved them. Cross country is a sport that requires endurance and dedication. I am very proud of their efforts."

played with a lot of heart & pride

"The highlight of this year's boy's varsity soccer team was their enthusiasm and interest in the game" according to Coach Richard Pardo.

"The team played every game with a lot of heart and pride. The players never gave up. They always kept fighting and in every game they played they improved," said Pardo.

The team captains were mid-fielder Charles Munson and goal keeper Luis Diaz, both seniors.

Munson said, "Considering the fact that half of the time most of our players were sick or injured, we did fairly well."

The team's record was 4-6. "The season was disappointing, especially for the seniors, but with a new coach adjustments had to be made and it looks very promising for next year," senior Lee Richardson said.

The climax of the season was when the team played Mayde Creek twice.

"The first time we played them we had a full team for the first time that year," said Pardo. "During the game we started losing 1-0. We came back second half to beat them 3-2," he added.

The second time around found the team in the same kind of situation.

"This time we went ahead first 1-0," Pardo said.

"Mayde Creek came back to tie us 1-1 until the end of the game when we scored one more time to win 2-1 over them," Pardo concluded.

United We Stand

towards one goal

United we stand; together we fall. Sound familiar? This certainly applies to the girls' varsity soccer team. Academically, they are different people with different goals, but athletically, they are one body striving towards one goal, victory.

One of the team's key games was the Katy/Taylor game. The girls held Taylor off until the last seven minutes of the game when they lost 2-0 due to bad refereeing.

Giving praise to team members, Regina Davila said, "Our defense was awesome! The team had some excellent, young players. With the help of Coach Bell, the Katy team will see a lot of victories next year."

Much credit was given to this year's coach, Dianne Bell. Senior Eve Mosher said, "This year we finally got our team together and played well. I think a lot of it has to do with the great coach we had this year. She really got the team together and brought the spirit up."

Junior Buffy Morrow added, "Our coach was great! She really gave us motivation and incentive."

The future should look promising for next year's team. According to Pam Mire, "The future is real bright for the girls' team since there are so many good, young players."

Aggressive

shooting for the playoffs

Finishing second in district, the varsity boys' basketball team held up a really good season. Not only did the team finish well in district, but they also advanced to the second round of the playoffs.

Coach Randy Holloway said, "This season had its ups and downs. We played some exciting games and also had some disappointing games; yet, when we played together as a team we usually had good results."

The team's season record stood at 12-18. Holloway commented, "Winning 12 ball games was probably our biggest accomplishment."

As the season progressed the players became more determined. The attitude of the team improved greatly.

"We began pressing toward the end of the season. It picked up our pace dramatically. We played much more aggressive basketball toward the end," said Holloway.

Seniors Yancy Allen and John Brayton led in rebounding. Leading scores were also Brayton and JoJo Lewis.

Trying Season

J.V. Boys' Basketball

"This was a trying season for the boys' J.V. basketball team," said Coach Sirois.

Sirois added that the strongest points about the team were, "They never gave up. Most teams would just have given up and not even try, but these boys kept up the determination."

The highlight of the year was when the team defeated Spring Woods 59-66. The leading rebounder was Ricky Snitken, junior. Snitkin was also the leading scorer for the season.

Other key games included the games against Elsik and Hastings — the team lost by one point.

Coach Sirois said, "The team's attitude throughout the season was good, and they worked really hard. They were inexperienced but they kept their enthusiasm up!"

A winning group

defeats the Mustangs

The sophomore boys' basketball team experienced what athletics was all about — team unity and growth in a frustrating year.

Some of the year's highlights included the Tiger and Spring Woods game in which both teams fought neck to neck until the final three seconds when the Tigers won with two free-throws. Another highlight was the Taylor game when the Tigers won with a come-from-behind win.

"I know the season wasn't good but there are some good players on this team," said Kale Krhovjak, sophomore.

The top scorers were Butch Vincik, Kale Krhovjak, and Kyle Tomme.

"I would have loved to have won a bunch of games but we didn't. Some of the boys never played high school basketball," said Coach Bruno, who has been sophomore coach for two years.

He added, "Some people would look at our record and call us losers, not true. All a record shows is if you played a game better or worse than someone else, not if you're a winning or losing person."

Matt Jackson added, "Although this season was not successful record-wise, there was a definite improvement among all the players.

Coach Bruno concluded with one final comment about the team. "My group was a winner. They never quit showing up for practice or quit playing the game."

Aiming High

and fighting back

"The freshman boys played with a tremendous amount of courage," Coach Bobby Phillips said. "They always had a reservoir of desire to make stirring comebacks. Very seldom were they totally overwhelmed."

This ability to produce points made their games exciting, if not always winning efforts. The "B" team fought their way back into the district race, but the free throw line proved to be their undoing in some key games that would have kept them in contention, according to Phillips.

Outstanding players for the "A" team were Omar Williams, Kyle Green, Rodney Thompson, Dwight Gross, and Davey Smith, while Brian Range, Sean Peck, David Catano, Tom Smith and Truang Vo shone for the "B" team, Phillips said.

The "A" team finished 6-18 and the "B" team finished 6-12.

"Our season was pretty disappointing," freshman Milton Fletcher said.

Teammate Kyle Green found basketball to be, "a very interesting experience."

"If they continue to develop, they will eventually be very competitive in the district," Phillips predicted.

In the future Phillips feels, "In order for them to reach the upper division of the district, they will have to make a drastic improvement in their defensive performance."

On a roll

determined and spirited

Although this year's Varsity Tigerettes had a 9-18 season, their spirit and determination made up for it. Coach Elmer Brumble said, "We usually played good team defense, and each player gave a maximum effort."

The team captains were Sherri Thompson and Gayle Coquat. "Our rebounding and our shooting were inconsistent. We hope to correct both problems this spring in off-season" added Brumble. The team leaders were Thompson and Coquat.

"I feel our team is improving each year. We didn't win as many as we wanted to, but we are looking forward to next year! We have a lot of great players coming up and hopefully we will have a great season," said Coquat, junior.

Their leadership came in the form of their play in competition. "Kristina Wells provided defensive leadership through inspired play against some of the scoring leaders in the district," Brumble remarked.

The climax of the Tigerette season happened in their last game against Hastings, who had a 26-3 record. They were only behind 3 points going into the last quarter, 29-26. Kim Conner said, "Although we didn't win as many games as we wanted to, I'll be back next year to win."

A close game season

"We did much better this year as a team," Kim Heumann said about the girls' J.V. basketball team.

This year's team had seven sophomores and two juniors. Mrs. Susie McAdams was head coach.

Marissa King said, "Mrs. McAdams is like a mom. She'll listen to you when you have a problem, and she's really good."

The girls had sixteen games this season, and this year's district score was 8-6.

Some of the games were close. Jana Tate said, "On most games, we started off good but kind of slowed down at the end. During the game we played well but lost by three points. We really should have won," she added.

"They are a terrific group of girls," freshman basketball coach Rhonda Reese said of her team.

The freshmen pulled together to end the season with the district record 10 wins, 3 losses, and the season record 17 wins, 6 losses. Teamwork was the major factor of the victorious season for Katy.

"The girls are very close, like best friends," said Reese.

"Our basketball team did a great job this year," said Allison Leger. "We had great determination, consistency, and lots of spirit thanks to Coach Reese, Coach MacNamara, and Coach Brumble."

The fourteen members of the team put in two and a half hours of practice a day. Reese said, "Because I had selected the team myself, I had high expectations for them."

"Our team had a great season thanks to our wonderful Coach Reese and our team cooperation," Melissa Lewis said.

"If they stay together as sophomores they'll win the district," Reese added.

Dedicated Service

getting the added advantage

It's three in the afternoon and it's hot and sticky. Coach Mike Mills tells the tennis team, J.V. and Varsity, to run 5 laps around the tennis courts, for a typical tennis practice.

After laps the tennis team usually warms up and then hold scrimmages until 5 p.m. They play against each other perfecting their games for the next tennis meet.

Hard work seemed to pay off as the team finished their season at 12-10. District champ Heather Spragg, a freshman, won first at district, first at regionals, but lost the second match.

Terri Fajkus, junior, said, "I'm looking foward to next year. It's going to be great. We worked really hard before the season started and we'll be even better because we're going to start training early in the season."

Girls dominate District Title

"Very successful! Both teams are very competitive," was how Coach Mike Ellaby described the golf season.

Once again the girls' golf team captured the District Championship title. Paige Marini, senior and four year letterman, did very well with a second place medal. The district match was held at the Greenmeadows Golf Course.

"Making great contributions to the team were also players Leigh Martin and Allison Piper," Ellaby said.

Later, the girls advanced to Regionals in which they placed fourth. The regional match was held at Clear Lake City Golf Course. Marini finished fifth place overall.

Ellaby commented, "The girls have to realize that if they are going beyond regionals, they must continually develop their golfing skills. I see evidence of that now."

The boys finished fifth at the Northgate Tournament. Greig DeBow used his remarkable hole-in-one to finish second as an individual medalist. DeBow shot an impressive low score of 76.

Beating Taylor also proved to be an important highlight for the boys.

"I feel we had a good tournament finish and a successful season," said Don Asher, sophomore.

Ellaby concluded, "Both teams have the capacity to dominate the district. How dominating they become depends on how hard they work."

Going The Distance

Seniors advanced to Regionals

"This year's season started out positive and stayed that way throughout the season," Coach John Peace said about the Varsity boys' track team.

The track team, though small, placed sixth in district. Seniors Danny Wiggins and Mike Brast advanced to Regionals. Brast set the shot put record at Regionals.

The team's attitude resulted in a good season for the team. Peace added, "They were very dedicated and their attitudes got better at each competition."

Wiggins said, "The season was satisfying for me not only because I qualified for regionals, but it also increased my speed and stamina."

Peace commented on the team's daily practices, "Practice was hard. However, it helps the A runners get ready for competition." Practices consisted of relays, timed periods runnings, and handoff practice.

Keeping In Stride

Runners bring in good times

This year's J.V. track team did remarkably well in district. "I feel that our team improved drastically from the beginning of the season to the end," said junior Brad Buss.

The J.V. 400 sprint relay consisted of Myron Robinson, Randy Bade, Dube Yell, and Eric Davis who finished with a time of 44.03.

Coach Gary Joseph said, "The J.V. track men learned how to compete very well." A team member also qualifying for district was freshman Davy Smith, second in pole vault with a heighth of 11'6". Kirk Herring received first in the 800 meter dash with a time of 2:09.6, and Josh Jacobi second with 4.56.4. In the 1600 meter relay consisting of Chris Archie, Dean Deville, Randy Krench, and Davy Smith, the boys received third place with a time of 3:41.

Junior Randy Bade added, "Although we did good this year I hope to do even better next year."

According to team members highlights of the season were when Danny Perez won a second place in the 200 meter dash with a time of 23.32 and teammate David Litner got a third in district in the pole vault with a heighth to 13'6".

"Randy Bade also did well with a fourth place finish in the 110 hurdles with a time of 16.2 and a third place finish in the 200 meter dash with a time of 23.48," Coach Joseph said.

Setting The Pace

"We were a young team this year with only one senior," girls' track coach Janet Bauer said.

"I was very pleased with the hard work and dedication the girls put forth to do their best," added Bauer.

Track consisted of 34 girls doing interval training, relay handoffs, weights, and other events.

Coach Bauer commented, "Our strength seemed to lean toward the running events."

The overall leaders were Senakwe Wright-100, 200 meter dash and sprint relay; Teresa Grey-400 meter dash; Heather Kendal-one mile run; Joya Schamp-one mile run; Mary Cedeno-sprint relay and 800 relay; Stephanie Thompson and Michelle Robbins-high jump.

"Every year I try harder and harder to reach goals I have set. I hope that next year I'll be able to accomplish everything I did this year and more," said Teresa Grey, junior.

The team met eight hours per week with the most improved athletes being Andrea Sawin-100 meter hurdles, Kristin Bales-long and triple jump, and Jana Wyrick-100 meter dash.

Coach Bauer added, "At district meet we had at least one entry in every final race except the mile relay-a first for KHS girl's track in a long time."

Track lasted for eight weeks with one home meet and seven away meets. There were also new records set: Senakwe Wright-100 and 200 meter dash, Teresa Grey-400 meter dash, Heather Kendall-mile run, and Joya Schamp-1500 meter run.

"Even though we were a small team, there were many friendships made," said Wright. "The year was great and I hope next year is even better."

65 sets the record straight

This year was the first year the Varsity Tiger baseball team was able to win 12 games in a single season since entering 5A competition in 1980. Darren McPherson said, "As a team we started out great winning third place in our tournament, but as the season progressed, we had our share of problems. Overall, it was a good year for the team." The team ended with a 12-14 season. Coach Tom Ward added, "There were a lot of highs and lows this season. We had a very successful year considering the experience of our team."

Although the Tigers only hit .240 as a team, they made up for it with a new school record of 65 stolen bases. Chris Haskett remarked, "We played good as a team when we were out in the field; the only thing we needed help on was our hitting." The Tigers also broke another record with 29 doubles.

"I'm very proud of the fact that we were able to win 12 ballgames this season," added Ward.

Jamie Vana received All-District first team catcher. Honorable Mention went to Chad McMillan for first base and Tim Litchauer for outfield.

Diamond Hitters

Team improves season record

"Three strikes and the other team is out," seemed to be the motto of the Katy High junior varsity baseball team as they finished the 1986-87 season with a 9-7 record.

The team was coached by Don Clayton and Harold Bennett. The JV team's enthusiasm and determination led to an improvement from the 85-86 season, according to the coaches. That season ended with a losing record of 6-17.

"I was pleased with the team's determination and their quality of play on the field," Clayton said.

The JV game schedule was varied in the sense that a game could take place on any given day. As a result, the team practiced on every nongame day. Such practices involved alternating offensive and defensive days. Offensive days were devoted to batting practice and defensive days were devoted to infield and outfield drills. Most improved players included Charlie Hughes and Jeff Bennett.

"Practice was sometimes rough, but in the end it paid off," Hughes said.

A Splashing Success

Regional qualifier and top 40 finalist

This year the Katy High diving team pulled off a very successful season.

"Throughout the season they had continual progress and improvement," said diving Coach Dana Abbott of his divers.

The team of three girls and one guy practiced for 45 minutes on the board everyday as well as lifting weights.

"The principle figure of motivation for the team is their desire to improve and dive better than others," Abbott said.

Christy Aragon, sophomore, described the season. "There weren't very many divers, but everyone did their best and practiced hard."

Diver Jay Conner, also a sophomore, said, "The season was fun for me. I learned a lot of new dives and improved real fast."

Conner commented on one of the highlights of the year, "It was at the Jersey Village meet, when I received my highest score of 147."

Aragon, a regional qualifier, said, "Definitely the district meet. It wasn't one of my best meets, but I was consistent and with my ability I made it to Regionals."

From Regionals, Aragon advanced to the finals where she placed eighth out of approximately twenty divers. Overall Aragons is ranked in the national top 40.

The divers proved to be very important assets as described by Aragon. "At the Spring Wood's meet, if it hadn't have been for the divers, the team would have lost by 2 points."

A Perfect 9-0!

"This season has clearly been the best!" said enthusiastic swimmer, Scott Houg.

This year's Katy Tiger Swimmers went undefeated with a record of 9-0.

"The toughest team was Spring Woods," said head coach, Dana Abbot. "The score was 170-165, and the meet came down to the last relay. Katy had to win and take third — we did. It was a real heart stopper," Abbot added.

The team leaders were Kevin Beck and Chris Erickson.

"As a team we have gone further than ever before. I think the highlight of this year was everytime we went to and finished a victory swim meet," said Houg.

Coach Abbot added, "One of the many good points of the team included that they were a hard working group. They had more spirit and more talent than ever before."

The team's attitude was positive and hard working. They worked toward the goals of the team, and succeeded in making a new season record with no problem.

Abbot concluded, "It's hard to surpass a perfect season, so our goals will be to qualify more people for regionals in '88, and to improve on our 1987 district finish."

Important Thing?

and was it related to school?

The last year being a student's senior year, one must answer that very big question: What was the most important thing you ever learned? Did it have anything to do with school?

Most students said the most important thing they had learned had nothing to do with school but it was learned while in school.

Hannah Krishniah answered, "The most important thing I have learned throughout school was to be patient. Things will work out."

If we all think about it, probably all of us have learned this lesson.

Melissa Ybarra replied, "The most important thing I have learned while in school was how to be dependable and reliable to others and myself."

Suzette Bingham said, "The most important thing I have learned throughout my school years is how to handle peer pressure and become a responsible person."

When asked this question, all had to think a bit and then answer. To many it may not seem that they learned much, but there is one thing everyone agreed that has been learned. It's the most important lesson in the world — how to use the huge supply of brain power in all of us.

Independence

Look out college, here we come

College is a very big issue for most seniors. It provides the incentive needed for hard work. But what do seniors really look forward to about going to college?

Independence! That seems to be the highlight for college-bound seniors. Margot Merek said, "I'd finally have the freedom to make my own decision. I could find out all the options that I have for a career and make a start from there."

Running his own life suited Rick Adams . "I can make my own schedules, curfews, etc. I'd have and enjoy the freedom to make my decisions," he said.

Other seniors were anxious to "start" their life in the real world. "I'm going to love to get out of Katy," stated Lloyd Sitkoff . "I want to be in the real world that offers the opportunity for being independent."

Tonia Holibaugh said, "I'm going to be starting all over again. Nobody will know who I am. I can make my own image."

Margaret Schneider felt that it would be "just like a fresh start as an adult."

Getting out of the high school rut and the influence of the "same old people" was another thing that seniors looked forward to.

Sonya Ragusin admitted that it would be "refreshing to meet new people with different backgrounds, cultures, and viewpoints."

College means many different things to various people. But one thing is for sure. It offers the freedom that high school students have been longing for.

Senior Parking

used as a fund-raising idea

In the past, Katy seniors have been given the privilege of parking in the front parking lot. This space has always been reserved for "seniors only."

This year the class of '87 was unable to take advantage of this privilege. In order to cover expenses on all senior events such as prom and graduation, the senior class officers arranged to sell each space for $15. The money brought from this fundraiser helped pay for their color pictures in the yearbook.

"I thought it was a good idea because the money goes to the senior class," said Brent Patrick.

Several advantages to parking in the front included being close to the school since students had a long walk from the regular student parking lot, having less chance of vandalism, and being easier to exit because there are no long lines.

"I like it because it's a privilege for seniors only," Tammy Sanchez said.

Danny Wiggins commented, "It really doesn't concern me because I don't drive to school."

When I'm older I will . . .

As graduation approached, the seniors of '87 had to finally decide what they wanted to do with their lives after graduation.

Some seniors planned to attend college. "When I get older, I want a degree from a good college in either sports medicine or law. Then I'd retire at the age of 30 and live on a deserted island with Yvonne," Ed Ortega predicted.

Other seniors said they would enter the work field and by-pass college. There were many various options open for graduates.

Mike Fleener said, "When I get older, I would like to live in California and be as rich as a pro football or baseball player."

There were some seniors who decided to have fun while attending college. "When I get older I will be attending college and partying every night," Rhett Baker said.

"Instead of staying out and partying all the time, I'd rather just grow up and spend every minute with Mark," Tricia Orsak said.

Seniors Tell All

Life's Embarrassing Moments

We all have embarrassing moments. Some can be rather funny or just too embarrassing to say. For instance Jennifer Miller recalled her embarrassing moment.

"I was out with Steve Cox, and we were at Birraporetti's and Steve was asking for a table for five. He took one step forward and slipped down three steps. It was so funny, I couldn't help but laugh."

Some embarrassing moments can be shared with a group of friends or half the school such as John Dehlin's embarrassing moment. He said, "I was in the cafeteria and in one hand I had a cup of ice and in the other hand I held my backpack. I walked to my table and wasn't looking where I was going. I tripped over a chair and fell flat on my bottom. The whole lunchroom clapped. Of course I stood up and took a bow!"

Russell Cain said, "I was over at Margot Merek's house for dinner and I was trying to be really polite. We had just finished dinner and her mom was serving dessert. She handed me a little plate with a piece of pie on it. I was trying my hardest to be mannerly. I was cutting through the pie and the crust wouldn't cut. The plate filled over and landed on my lap. Margot and her mother were laughing so hard, I was red all over. She has never let me forget it to this day."

A turn of fate

Students have found many ways to remember high school. For instance, some students take pictures and some students use memory books. The most popular and traditional way of remembering high school is the turning of senior rings. "I got a ring because they all got one," said Duane BirdBear, junior.

"I think the rings are cool, but I have other ways of spending my money," remarked Michael Burks.

"They might be expensive, but if you think about it, you'll realize that they're worth it," commented Sean Gravelle.

It's all just a matter of interest

Who is the most interesting person you know? Different people have a variety of ideas on who the most interesting person in their lives would be.

Peter Eversley felt that Albert Einstein would be the most interesting person. "He possesses an inquiring mind and an ability to stand up for what he believes in," he said.

"Hitler has got to be the one," Ceasar Garcia said. "He rose from a nobody into a great monarch."

Of course not every junior thought of such elite people. Most of them chose more "down to earth" people.

According to Lisa Magana, "Mrs. Villalba is one of the most interesting persons I know. She's always so full of energy. She also has a great personality."

Evelyn Riddle thought that David Temple was the most interesting person. "He's so cute and friendly and . . . muscular."

Dena Swaney came up with an original one. "It has to be my boyfriend because he is who he is."

Judy Smith and Lisa Graham show their holiday spirit by helping with the Christmas decorations. All students were welcome to decorate the school's Christmas tree.

It's all in your dreams

How much sleep do you need to survive the day? Does it depend on what's happening (major test, minor test, or just nothing at all?) or do you require the same amount each night no matter what?

It's said that some people require just the basic amount of sleep (basic being eight hours). Others need more (9-12 hours) or less (2-6 hours) than the basic amount. Below is what some juniors say about how much sleep they need:

Joe Angerame -I need 11 hours to function in the morning.

Steve Bartee -I need 12 hours to get ready for the next night.

Jennifer Burdette -Well, I can make it on a couple of hours of sleep a day. That, of course, is not including my history class.

Shannon DeRoch -I only need a couple of hours to make it through the day. However, a couple of my classes seem to make up for the lost sleep.

Allan Spillman -Six and a half hours because I sleep during class.

Sit back and relax

Do you ever just want to let go, to get rid of all the worries of everyday life? The only question is how does one do this? How can you just sit back and relax? Not everyone goes about it in the same way.

Listening to music has become a popular way of "letting go." "Music is a world of its own. I understand it and it understands me," Tammy Fajkus said.

Radha Annamalai agreed. "You can choose a type of music to suit whatever mood you're in. You begin to relate to the music and then slowly you forget about everything else."

Ute Koeppen , German exchange student, came up with an interesting way to relax. "I like to take a walk through the forest. Everything is so calm and peaceful. I just love it."

Reading has also become a popular way of relaxing. "It's incredible," Bonnie Bash said. "When you read a book, it's like leaving the real world and entering one of your choice."

Relaxing doesn't necessarily mean winding down. According to Darren McPheason , playing sports is the best way to relax. "You just kind of get lost in all the physical activity and the excitement of the game."

The Social Event of the Season

Thinking back on high school years, certain social events stand out in one's memory. Memories of friends, parties, school games, and dances are often remembered the most. Those nights spent with special friends and staying out all night will never be forgotten.

"My best high school memory was the time we went to this party in downtown Houston. All of my friends were there," Molly Herring said. "It was great."

"My most memorable social event was the Sadie Hawkins Dance of last year," said Duane BirdBear . "Totally unbelievable, absolute non-existence, factor for reality (in other words, a dream come true!)."

Cheritza Rogers remembers when, "We all went stag for Homecoming with Tonya, Alison, Kim, Candice, Leslie, Theresa, Tanya and Kim."

"I remember going down to the lot and Westheimer with Andy," Jimmy Valentino said of his favorite memory.

From X-Men to friends

They are all heroes

Everybody has at least one hero they admire and look up to. These heroes vary from cartoon characters to real life figures. Even high school students, although they may deny it, have favorite heroes themselves.

"Eddie Murphy is my favorite hero because he is funny and like one of the brothers," declared Steven Fleckenstein .

Heroes are chosen for many different reasons such as being funny, daring, exciting, brave, relaxing, romantic. Even close friends and family members can be chosen as favorite heroes.

Molly Herring said her favorite heroes are "my close friends because they're the only ones who brighten my days and make me smile."

"My favorite hero is my mother because she is always there for me to talk to and laugh with," Gretchen Gust said.

"My favorite Super Hero is actually a group called the X-men because they fight so well together and when they are not fighting, they have an excellent time," Robb Scott said.

Duane BirdBear said Alexi Grewal was his hero. "He is the best. He is also quite a lot like me."

"I think Rachel McLeish is my hero because she is so pretty," Kelley Stephenson said.

Juniors plan creative senior year

Juniors of the 1986-87 school year anxiously anticipated their senior year. The idea of being a senior pleased many juniors, but it also made them think seriously about their future.

Radha Annamalai said, "I anticipate leaving high school, but I also worry about going to the right college and having a successful career."

Of course, juniors are human too. They came up with some festive ideas to begin their senior year.

Carolyn Strohm expressed her ideas by saying, "I'm going to start counting the days until graduation, and start making a videotape of the class of '88!"

"I'd throw a tremendous beach party," said Laura Griffin . "We'd stay at a nearby hotel and continue the party for the entire week."

Others were just relieved that their junior year would finally be over.

"There's nothing spectacular that I want to do," said Doug Simonton. "I just want to have the satisfaction of throwing away all my homework."

Sophomores earn respect

Now that the freshmen of '86 have been socially promoted to the respected sophomore, they can look down on the freshmen of this year as they were once looked upon.

Jeremy Harkrider said, "Now that I'm a sophomore, I can understand why freshmen are picked on because that year I matured a lot due to the relentless hassling of the upperclassmen."

The sophomores are now able to continue their high school year without the worry of initiation. They themselves are now able to do the initiating.

"Now that I am a sophomore I realize how the upperclassmen felt towards me when I was a freshman," Lonnie Adams said.

Sophs gain license to freedom

Do you remember when you were a sophomore and you were dying to get your license? Sophomores this year were no different. To many sophomores, getting a license was one of the major achievements of the year.

Laura Whittington said, "It's great! I'm going to love my freedom."

Guys especially wanted to get their license. Sammy Rodio and many of his friends felt "getting a license would be great because then I can finally get my car." They all agreed that a car would come in handy especially for a hot date.

Many sophomores such as Brenda McGee felt, "Driving is a big responsibility, but I think I can handle it."

Everyone has their ideas about how to spend a perfect night out on the town. Sophomores had different ideas about how to spend a night out.

Tina Prince said, "My perfect night out is probably a midnight stroll in the park with Joel Dehlin."

Karen Korb said her perfect night out would be "to go to a symphony concert and then eat at an outside cafe with someone who appreciates good music."

"Going out with my friends and probably to a movie and just having fun," was what Pete Le felt would be a good time.

Everyone has different ideas on how to spend a night out, but most students agree the main purpose is to have fun and forget your worries.

Sixteen Candles

A person's sixteenth birthday is always very special. Some sophomores remember their sixteenth birthday in different ways:

"You get a driver's license!"- Amy Cantrell

"It's a reminder that I'm getting older."- Carol Yuan

"It only happens once in your life." - David Cowan

"It's just another birthday."- Brenda McGee

"It's the magic number. You get more privileges and you get to drive!"- Laura Whittington

"I expect it to be very special."- Lisa Warren

"You get a car!"- April Rundell

"It's supposed to be your best birthday ever."- Becky Williams

Celebrations may be different, but most 16 year-old sophomores agree that a sixteenth birthday is a traditional special one.

THE BIG CHANGE

The general opinion has always been that freshmen are intimidated by upperclassmen. Freshmen this year have proven that this statement is not necessarily true.

According to Gary Rodriguez, upperclassmen who "talk to you are cool, but those who talk down to you are not."

Others like Raoul Perez term upperclassemen as "a real wild bunch."

"Pep rallies wouldn't be the same without the upperclassmen around," said Tony Robles.

This year both the freshmen and the upperclassmen have had a friendly attitude towards one another. This newly-found rapport between the two has developed a new tradition at Katy High School.

Freshmen are 'impressed'

Everyone has different "first impressions" about Katy High School. The freshmen had different impressions about how the first day was.

Carol Pratt said, "I was so scared I was going to get lost, but it was easy to find my way after walking around a bit."

First impressions about people were lasting also. Brandie Mullinax said, "I wasn't sure people would like me because I'm different as it is and being a freshman doesn't help. But it turned out that I made more upperclassmen friends than freshmen!"

Kim Boatman's first impression was, "I was so scared everybody was looking at me and saying 'Who's that girl?' ".

First impressions can be good or bad but you shouldn't judge them as permanent. As the old saying goes, "You can't judge a book by its cover."

If freshmen had a choice in the matter, what would they change about KHS? The majority agreed that lunch is one thing that definitely needed improvement.

"By the time you get through the long lines at lunch, it's time to go back to class," Tracy Small said.

Is there a solution to this dilemma? Of course! One suggestion by Tammy Glovanovitch was, "We need more time for lunch."

Carol Frasier was supported by many of her peers in her complaint about the new lunch detention rules. Carol was very adamant in saying that lunch detentions have "got to go."

Lunch was definitely the one thing that freshmen would change about KHS. Can you blame them? With all the pushing and shoving and rushing to classes, wouldn't you be frustrated, too?

It's a tradition . . .

Freshmen have ambition

Each freshman who enters high school has his own set of ambitions that he wishes to reach before graduation his senior year. Whether those ambitions include becoming a varsity cheerleader, Homecoming Queen, the star quarterback for Katy or just to graduate, the ambition is still there.

The secret to achieving these goals is found in the determination of the person who set the goals. Some students have specific goals.

"I just want to make varsity volleyball," Melissa Lewis and Cheryl Kobza said.

Other students have general goals. "I want to meet more people," Pam Keller said.

"I would like to make it through my freshman year," Heather Beckner said.

Freshmen adapt after first day jitters

"At first I was scared, but it turned out OK." For Jane Hankins as well as the majority of the freshmen, this was the feeling on the first day of school.

Others like Jeanette Berrio felt that high school was "not as friendly" as they thought it would be.

For the freshmen, September 2 was a day that was not easily to be forgotten. It was a day for new beginnings. Many found the higher standards of high school very demanding but didn't find too much difficulty in adapting. Students agreed that classes this year were much more demanding than they were in junior high, but they learned to use their time wisely.

Friends forever

Friends are special especially if it is your first year in high school. Laura Minze said, "Becky is my best friend. I'm glad because this gives me a way to share our feelings together."

Becky Armstrong agreed. "We're really close. I don't know what I'd do without her."

Friends are people who you can trust with your thoughts. They help you through high school and throughout life. They add to memories-both good and bad.

Heather Kendall said, "Having friends gives you an edge in life."

Friends are definitely people you can't do without.

Poetry in Motion

Language Arts offered students varied experiences. This year's freshmen read various books such as Romeo and Juliet and West Side Story. Along with reading, they learned to write creatively in the writing workshop. The writing workshop concentrated on methods of writing.

Freshmen had to work hard on writing creatively, like freshman Larry Cushman who has his own thoughts about English I. "English I is awful. It is my hardest subject but when progress reports come out I'll probably pass."

In English II, the focus was on reading books of various subject which included, Of Mice and Men and Alas Babylon. Tammi Rogers, sophomore, said she liked the book Of Mice and Men. "It's a pretty funny book." But then again some sophomores did not agree. Besides the interesting books the sophomores learned about formal writing.

As for teachers they learn too. Mrs. Levin, who teaches English II, has lots of goals for her students. "I want to teach them to think and write in complete thoughts and maybe put a little more knowledge in their little heads."

As for the juniors, they learned about the adventures of Huckleberry Finn and The Crucible and everything from pronouns to witches in the 18th century.

Kaylene Mecham a junior said, "Mrs. Villalba is a pretty good teacher and I learned a lot. English and reading is getting easier."

Seniors prepared for college by writing theme papers and doing research papers. English IV classes focused on British Literature. The seniors read 1984 and Macbeth.

As you see Language Arts is not only a requirement but it also teaches you of the past, present, and maybe even little about yourself.

Figuring it all out

Welcome to the Real World!! Please take some scratch paper out and a pencil. When you receive your test you may begin — NO TALKING!! Oh no, a math test!

So many dread the word "math". Math is probably the most complicated course anyone will ever experience.

Freshmen are required to take math so the first course is Algebra I which starts with real numbers then into polynomials; solving open sentences and systems of equations. As for Carol Frasier, she said Algebra I is "boring, but I'll pass."

After students struggle through Algebra I, they tackle geomerty. Of course Heather Goynes , junior, agrees that, "You have to tackle geometry because that's the only way you'll pass."

Geometry students study relationships of angles, perpendicular and parallels, congruent triangles, similarity and circles and basic trigonometry and coordinate geometry.

Next step on a students' ladder of success would be Algebra II. Algebra II consists of an in-depth study of algebra. Most of the time it is devoted to complex numbers and ionic sections, logarithms and matrices. Many teachers have their own goals for their students. Mrs. Leacock who teaches Algebra II stated her goal as being, "I'm going to try to get these kids through this year."

If a students decides to go on even further there are Pre-Calculus and Calculus classes which focus on radians of triangular functions and relations and angles. As for goals, Mr. Chandler focused on ways to deal with changes in calculus to help his students understand his pre-calculus class.

After students pass all the requirements for math, they can go on to the "real" world.

It's all in the Past

Freshmen started out their year by enlightening themselves with World History. World History focused on civilizations from the beginning of time until now. "It's a challenge for me but it's also interesting," Cheryl Kobza, freshman, said

After a year without history, juniors are then required to take American History. The class studies compose of the history of the United States and how it developed from the Reconstruction period to the present. "We do more than just study history. We also get to discuss current events," Stephanie Handy, junior, said.

Seniors are required to take economics and government. Each course is half a semester. Economics classes study how people make choices in life according to their lifestyle. In government seniors learned the operations of national, state and local governments. The class also stressed the nature of American politics. "I think economics is an interesting class. Hopefully, I'll pass," said Amy Dolph, senior.

After three years of history, students should be ready to go out and conquer the world and make their own history.

Students may choose from a variety of Sciences courses. The first course required for freshmen is Physical Science.

Physical Science focuses on the basics of Chemistry and Physics, with a semester of study in each area.

Melissa Beckner , freshman, stated,"Mr. Payne, our Physical Science teacher, is cool even if he used to teach at Taylor."

Biology I studies include cell structure and their functions, photosynthesis, and dissection of selected invertebrates and vertebrates. The course also requires a major project due during the second semester. This project is an insect collection consisting of specimens found locally.

Other science courses available to students are Chemistry, Biology II, and Physics.

Chemistry is a year long course which includes area of study in atomic structure, chemical bonding and chemical reactions.

When asked about Chemistry, Suzanne Christopher , junior, replied,"It's hard but as long as I do my homework-I'll pass."

Biology II topics include physiological and biochemical structure of living organisms.

Singing in harmony

"This year our choir sounds so much better," Kate Perry , junior, said.

The choir class also has a choir club. The officers are Melissa Wells -president, Kate Perry -vice-president, Lisa Powers -secretary, Andy Meinen -librarian, Tex Steen and Crystal Ledford , historians.

Choir music ranges from church music to foreign music. The choir must have two concerts each year, one in the fall and a Christmas concert.

KHS boasted many kinds of choirs this year. One that is not as well-known is the Pop Choir. This group is made of eight students who meet every Monday night to practice and they sing popular music.

"The Pop Choir sang music for an old folks home at Christmas," Perry said.

Melissa Wells said, "We are really not that big, but we sound really good."

Choir competed in UIL competition and at Six Flags in April.

The Katy Girls' Choir included Veronica Foxe, Maria Varutia, Adrienne Bourgeois, Kim Cardwell, Debra Smith, Krista Vickrey, Kim Hunt, Laurie Nor, Christina Vance, and Amy Wegner.

Growing for the future

"Not everyone taking Ag is a 'kikker'. Being known as a 'kikker' is a terrible stereotype. We have many students taking the class who have never put a pair of boots on," said Gary Young, Ag teacher.

Young added that students aren't trained to be farmers. "Most of them will go into other fields. The fact is, agriculture is related to almost every field," he added.

Ag students this year were taught in six major areas: animal science, plant science, Ag mechanics, Ag managing, recordkeeping and leadership, according to Young.

Ag is like any other class. One has to meet certain requirements just like one is required to know what a verb is in English. As students reach higher levels in Ag, the course becomes more difficult, Young said. "Each year builds to the next," he added.

Over the past few years, the Ag chapter has grown. Presently, there are 167 students taking the class.

"I've learned a lot from taking Ag. We have a lot of fun in the class," Marianna McFarland said. "You don't just learn how to be a 'farmer', you also learn leadership, cooperation and discipline."

Brushing Up!

Art helps you express yourself with help from style like Van Gogh to Andy Warhol. Style is nothing without originality.

This year Katy High School has two new art teachers, Mrs. Alice Ross, teacher of Art 1 — Art 4, and Ms. Vicki Stone who teaches Art 1 and basic English.

Art 1 students take Art 1 expecting to learn to just draw. Art 1 is the study of art and the color wheel. Students learn to shade and use contrasts to their advantage.

Art 2 is a little more complicated. Students study the color wheel and learn to properly shade. The art work gets more detailed while the students learn more techniques on improving their art style.

Art 3 and 4 are a combined class since classes are overcrowded. The usage of different art materials is taught .

Mrs. Ross , who was a former teacher at Spring Woods, said, "I was rather amazed at how much space they have provided for the art students' art materials. Of all my years of teaching at different schools, I have never seen a school so equipped with so much space."

"Art 4 is learning at your own pace," Mike Votsmier , senior, commented.

Students do projects to enter for scholarships or for portfolios for college.

TAD places high

"If I had the chance, I would do it all over again," remarked Lloyd Sitkoff, senior, about TAD (Texas Academic Decathlon).

Decathlon is an academic contest which involves ten events including essay writing, math, science, economics, social science, fine arts, languages and literature, speech interview and Super Quiz. KHS was represented by two honors students, two scholastic students, two varsity students and three alternate members.

Before becoming a member, one had to meet certain requirements. For instance, a student had to put forth a positive attitude. Secondly, students had to be willing to do a lot of work.

"We were TAD before TAD was cool," said Anderson Brandao.

The 1986-87 Decathlon team which was coached by Mrs. Joyce Davis and Mrs. Tina Sillavan, was comprised of Brandao, Lloyd Sitkoff, Margot Merek, Lisa Bell, Tod Casasent, Tonia Holibaugh, Sri Gogineni, Rob Williams and John Naiser. After several weeks of intense preparation, the nine member team attended a regional contest which was held at Mayde Creek High School in December. Each team member received medals from various events.

"In addition to teaching the spirit of competition, the decathlon taught the students how to set priorities and work under pressure," Mrs. Davis said.

"It was an unforgettable experience," Lisa Bell said.

Communications

Journalism I is a full year course. The students are taught how to write feature stories, sport stories, news stories, editorials, and columns. Students are also taught layout design and typography.

"This year we purchased new updated books. The students also learned an extensive yearbook design program," Mrs. Crow, journalism sponsor, said.

"Students also observed different investigative talk show reporters," she added.

Tanya Karnauch said, "Someday I would like to work for a big newspaper. I work for the Houston Post right now. Journalism is exciting and fun!"

The study of the equipment procedures, and processes that make photos is called general photography.

"This year we covered parts of the camera, portraits, exposure rules, composition, kinds of cameras, how to make prints, developing film, and action shooting," said Richard Youngblood, photography teacher.

Photography student Jimmy Shannon said that photography was interesting. " You do different things. You get to be creative. In the future, photography will help me to capture the momemts," he said.

What happened to English?

"I'm taking Spanish 1 for an advanced diploma. Taking Spanish helps me to get a better view of the Spanish culture," Tina Castillo, sophomore, said. "Someday I think Spanish may become one of the most popular languages in the future and it's good to know a second language."

"There is a lot of Spanish influence in Texas," said Gayelynn Walston, sophomore. "In order to get along with the Spanish people, one needs to know the language. It's an easy language. I plan to major in Spanish in college," she added.

There are five levels of Spanish. Spanish 1 deals with basic listening, speaking, and reading and writing skills. By the end of Spanish 1, one can converse in simple conversation. Spanish 2 places more emphasis on grammar and culture.

Spanish 3-5 are honors courses. Finer points of grammar are studied. A student is given a more detailed cultural study through literature as excerpts from novels, short stories, and essays.

"It's neat to be in Spanish 4. The class is small so you get to know the people in the class better," remarked Terri Ellis, junior. "You also have a advantage when in a small class because you learn faster. I've learned a lot about the Spanish customs. In the future Spanish will help me by opening up a lot of job opportunities for knowing a foreign language," she added.

Latin comes alive through students

Basic skills are required in any foreign language. Latin is no exception.

"Latin requires a lot of memorization and you have to understand the parts of speech," said Mr. Chandler, Latin teacher.

Latin students are also expected to learn grammar, vocabulary, reading, writing, speaking, and listening skills. According to the course handbook, the relationship of Latin and English is also emphasized through word derivation exercises and composition of Latin and English grammar.

"Latin is harder than any other foreign language. You not only learn Latin, but you're also learning other languages mixed in," said senior Om Chawla.

Language of love

Hey guys, do you want to get some romance into your relationship? Do you want some romance in your life? Here's the answer to meet your romantic needs. French. Yes, that's right. Francais (French in plain English). After all, it's a known or almost known, fact , le francais est la langua de l'amour-French is the language of love!

"French really helps you understand more about people in France. It's also fun just to learn a different language," commented Amy Anderson, freshman.

French is not only learning and speaking the language, it's also learning the geography, culture, and a sprinkle of history. Best of all it's not all work and no play. French classes include skits, games, art and also have films.

"French is helpful and understanding as far as what the French culture is really like. It is fun to learn and the teacher is very helpful in that aspect. I love it!" exclaimed Jeni Stone, sophomore.

Ms. Henry, Ms. Cribbin and Ms. Harper, French teachers, give students the atmosphere and realness of actually speaking the language and being there. Here are some more reasons why French is fantastic and why everyone's standing in line to join:

"Les languis sont passionnantes! Vous pauvez voyager dans un pays etranger plus facelement — Languages are exciting. You can travel in a foreign country more easily. Vous pourez faire des amities de partout -You can make friends from all over!" remarked Ms. Henry.

The longer a person stays in French, the more fun it gets. It also gets easier. By the way, you just got your first lesson in French.

German more appealing

"German? Why German?" This is the reaction that most German students, whether present or former, obtain when they tell others of their foreign language choice. Why do they get such a response?

Former German student, Lori Benner said, "German isn't a popular language. Most people think of it as harsh and crass."

German has not been at Katy High School as long as Spanish or French. Unlike French and Spanish, it does not really prove useful in the professional aspect. So why is German so appealing?

Senior Sunni Mc Millan stated, "I like it because it's interesting — it's different."

President of the German Club, Tammy Faijkus said, "It's really great. There 's so much to German that people really don't know about."

There is one problem though. For the past few years, German has only been offered for the first two years. Many students, such as senior Maragret Schneider complained, " It isn't fair to list it in the handbook as 'German 1-4' when the school only offers up to German 2." Hopefully in the next year or so, German will be offered in it's entirety.

Speaking out . . .

"Speech is not only educational, but it is useful throughout one's life," said Mr. E.L. Williamson , speech teacher.

In speech, students learned effective oral communication. Students also learned how to organize and deliver various forms of speeches. Some of the speeches included extemporaneous, impromptu, oratory, Bible reading and poetry, said Mr. Williamson.

"Speech was boring in the beginning but it became more fun," said Lisa Bell , junior.

By giving speeches in front of people, the students gained self-confidence and better communication skills.

"Speech for some people is the experience of their lives," said Jim Goldsmith, senior.

Extemporaneous speeches are speeches which a student has 30 minutes preparation time. Impromptu speeches are similiar to extemp speeches, but a student has only two minutes to prepare himself. Students are graded on eye contact, gestures, and posture.

"Speech does involve hard work and dedication, but in the end it proves profitable," Russ Cain , senior, said.

An Apple a Day

"Health gets real boring sometimes because some of the stuff seems like common sense. However, in the long run the class is very beneficial," remarked Brenda Magee, sophomore.

Health is a one semester course which is required for all Katy High students. Since health is only one semester, a tremendous amount of information must be taught at a rapid pace, according to Mrs. Joyce Davis, health teacher. During the semester, students are informed of various drugs and alchohol. In the later half of the semester, students are taught C.P.R., first aid and basic anatomy.

During C.P.R., Frank Munoz said, "You have to be careful. One time when applying C.P.R., I crushed the dummy's ribcage and broke his neck when I lifted him up."

"Health is an important class because it is timely and applies to a student's present day situation, whereas other classes are for the future," said Mrs. Davis.

In addition to health, physical education is an important course at Katy High. Physical education must be taken for at least 18 months. Each grading period, students are able to choose from a variety of sports including softball, archery, basketball and badminton. P.E. students also lift weights and take a physical fitness test to show progress. Students are graded on participation in various activities and their ability to prepare for class.

"P.E. is regarded by many as a useless class, but one's health is never useless and some students fail to realize that," commented Mrs. Janet Bauer, coach.

"P.E. can be boring, but warball is great!" said Peter Eversley, junior.

Licensed to Drive

One of the advantages of being a Driver's Education student during the school year is to share the funny moments during simulation or hands-on-experience in the car.

Terry Baily , senior, recalled, "I remember one day when Judi Le was at the wheel. We were driving down Peek Road and I guess she was thinking something else and she was supposed to turn at the next median. However, she wasn't turning. She was showing everybody where she skidded with her mom and the Dr. Ed. teacher had to slam on the brakes! It was rather hilarious!"

Christie Hamilton shared her funny moment. "We were in simulation and I didn't check my blind spot and I wrecked and killed the 'biker'. It was funny because the whole class wrecked and killed the 'biker'."

Students had to do a lot of funny things when they made mistakes when they drove. Kim Brock , sophomore, said, "My teacher would make us get out of the car and talk to the stop sign and apologize to it for passing it."

Shannon Walker , sophomore, said, "We were driving and Betsy Clark went off the road and our teacher had to slam on the brakes."

Besides amusing moments, Driver's Education included films that taught the students how to drive correctly, while simulation helped the student get the feel for the road.

Special People

The Special Education Workshop is for students with a learning disability. The teachers for Special Ed include Ms. Amy Campbell who teaches the vocational skill parts of the resource workshop. She helps students to use skills that apply to work experience.

"The students use this skill when they get out into the real world, and are taught manners to use on the job," she said.

Ms. Janine Pope teaches fundamentals of math. "I teach students how to work on mechanics that may seem easy, but may be hard to them. For instance, counting money," she said. "The students learn to put that skill to work when they go out to eat on Fridays, when they do not cook." She added, "Students also swim every Tuesday, and on Mondays they make up their own grocery lists."

Mr. Doug Gilbert works on a one-to-one basis with a student. He helps them cope with crowds or just themselves.

This class focuses on helping these students to function in the world.

Skillful

Who says they're not smart? Special Education Resources is simply a class with a small group of students who move at a slower rate than regular classes, according to Ms. Esther Hielscher. Students learn the same material as regular classes and even have an advantage. Different levels are taught through special education ranging from I-IV.

"We build on study skills in this class. Sometimes we work on other subjects and use this class as a study period," Ms. Hielscher said. "I help all of my students out, not just in English or math, in all subjects. We work on homework and review for tests," she said.

She added, "This class is an aid. I care about my students and check to make sure they're passing."

"I take both English and math from Mrs. Hielscher. I read the book 'Blue Daffin' at the end of the year," junior Keith Hood said. "For Thanksgiving we wrote about what Thanksgiving means to us." He added, "During Christmas I helped take canned goods to the needy in Katy. It's more than just a class. It's a help. Plus it's fun."

Face to Face

"Taking cosmetology during high school is beneficial in many ways," junior Molly Herring said. "You can get your license in high school; it's less expensive and you can use it to fall on in the future," she added.

Cosmetology is one of the various vocational classes offered at Katy High. The students in this class are required to obtain 1000 hours and pass the state board exam before they can work in a beauty salon. It is a three period class offered to junior and senior students at the KISD vocational building.

"Cosmetology can help a person in the future to go out into the professional world straight out of high school," junior Lori Culican said. "This can provide a higher salary to help you get what you want out of life."

Building a dream

Students have many choices in the Industrial Arts Field. A student may choose General Drafting where they learn how to use drafting equipment, illustrate lettering in drafting terms and do technical and perspective drawings.

The second stage of Industrial Arts is Architect I or Technical I. In Architect I, a student is taught the economic rules of building a house (FHA).

Students are then assigned to draw up a blueprint and make a model of it.

Technical I students broaden their horizons with more advanced technical drawings.

Valerie Cortez , junior, said, "Advance Tech is really being on your own. You can build a dream house or do a commercial building. It's up to you."

"Advance Tech is really great," Carole Self , senior, agreed.

"We get to use what we learn and apply it to our dream project," she added.

Lucas Bolding added, "I know what I want (dream project), and I know it will be done right."

If general drafting did not seem much of a challenge, KHS also offered woodshop classes. Students learned how woods work and how to use them. The students drew up a blueprint of what they wanted to build. After the blueprint was finished, the students began to build his or her project. The projects ranged from coffee tables to a bed case and frame.

Taking care of business

"VOE is very educational because we learned about all kinds of office equipment," said Cathy Rivademar . "I feel the experience will be very helpful when I get out in the working world," she added.

"Recordkeeping involved keeping personal financial records — banking, tax, auto, budgets, and credit," said Mrs. Terri Youngblood , department chairman.

Typing I was a two semester course offered to beginning students to learn the basic principals and functions of the typewriter.

"Typing I involved learning the keyboard, typing letters, reports and typing and applying tables," said Mrs. Youngblood who teaches the course along with Miss Maxwell and Mrs. Devenport.

Advanced Typing/Word Processing was also a two semester course. However, the second year was to refresh the memories of first year students and study the course further.

"Word Processing was added to typing last year," Mrs. Youngblood said.

More advanced work was taught in this course by Mrs. Devenport. "It involved using the Apple 2E computer during lab and building speed and accuracy," she said.

Other business courses offered this year included Accounting — first and second year, Personal Business Management, Data Processing/Computer/ Programming and ODP.

"Office Duplication Practices (ODP) dealt with printing things for people and running different machines such as off-setting, spirit duplicators and mimeographs," said LeeAnn Smith .

Cooking with class

Home Economics isn't just learning how to cook. The activities studied in Home and Family Living included personalities, dating relationships, how to select a marriage partner, planning a wedding, marriage, customs and laws, crises that may affect the family such as divorce, death, drugs, aging, child abuse, and parenting.

Lisa Roberts , junior, commented, "I wanted to take Home Economics to learn how to sew." She added, "I love to cook! We've mostly just learned how to make breakfast foods, but it's fun anyway."

Homemaking, clothes and textiles, and food and nutrition are taught to the students. The main objective of the class was to help the students develop skills they can use now and in the future, according to Huntyce Moore, Home Economics teacher.

Joe King , senior, said, "I took Home Economics because I thought it would be fun, and it is!" He added, "We've learned to set a table, which I still don't know much about, and also about the different kinds of germs."

BAND

"This is my sixth year in band and I have never regretted it. I have never seen such a dedicated group of people striving for one thing, a 'one' at contest," Tammy Fajkus, junior librarian, commented. One hundred and fifty were enrolled in That'Roarin Band'.

The band is under the direction of Bob Bryant. Mr. Bryant has been teaching at K.H.S. for four years. The band is under field direction of Lori Benner, senior, and Kris Schmidt, junior.

"The band is much stronger this year and the attitude is much better. The over all musical intelligence is much higher," said Mr. Bryant.

"The band has changed a lot this year. We have a better attitude toward the whole situation. I think we are suprising a lot of people with our new style. This is our year to be the best, and we are," stated Jennifer Burdette , junior publicity officer.

Bryant added that the band will continue to grow as the reputation of the band gets stronger.

Karen Korb , sophomore said, "I think we have a really good band program and we should be recognized more. The Tiger Band has much more power and zest than any other time I can remember."

Senior Anthony Matulis said his fondest memory of band was, "when I made my first divison at solo and ensemble contest."

Mr. Bryant summed up the feelings of the band by saying, "With continued faculty and student body support the band will strive to improve in quality and positive winning attitude to reflect the pride of everyone at KHS."

TO EXCELLENCE

Working Together

FLAGS

The flag corps this year is in one word SENSATIONAL! Flag captain Jennifer Santogrossi commented that the members are "much more dedicated working as a group than they were last year."

"The girls on the flag corp get along a lot better than last year. Our attitude towards each other makes us work harder which makes our performances SUPER!" Shannon DeRoch said.

There are twenty members in the flag corps. The flag lieutenant is Karen Fassino. She said the spirit in the corp is overwhelming and that they are a close-knit group.

Carolyn Jurick, junior, said, "At first I missed being an actual 'band member', but at the first game as soon as I stepped on the field, I realized the only difference between a 'band member' and a flag corps member was the uniform and equipment. The goal is still the same: EXCELLENCE!"

TWIRLERS

Jennifer Maddox and Marissa King have something to be proud about. They are the feature twirlers of KHS

Maddox, a junior, has been twirling for nine years. She has won numerous awards for her expert twirling ability. She said, "If it were not for the help of my teacher, Beverly Greene, and my family, I would have never made it."

King, a sophomore, has been twirling for 11 years. She too has won numerous awards.

Jennifer Maddox commented on the steps in making up a routine. "Under normal conditions it usually takes three to five days, but if you are put on the spot at the last minute you can make up a routine in one day or just an afternoon."

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

"Debate is, by definition, the antithesis of ignorance, complacency and dogma," said Anderson Brandao, senior.

The 1986-87 Speech and Drama club was coached and supervised by Mr. E.L. Williamson, speech teacher. Over the years, the club, under the guidance of Mr. Williamson, has established a reputation of excellence and superiority.

The club officers for the 86-87 year included Jim Goldsmith, president; Lanell Pena, vice president; Anderson Brandao, secretary; Lisa Bell, treasurer; Sri Gogineni, reporter and Russ Cain, historian. During the course of the year, the Speech and Drama club attended ten tournaments. At these tournaments, students participated in various speaking and acting events, some of which included impromptu speaking, extemporaneous speaking, Lincoln-Douglas debate and duet acting. By the end of the tournament season, the club had won several first and second place sweepstakes trophies.

Before becoming a member, one must meet certain requirements. For instance, the student must accumulate 24 points. Points are gained by going to speech tournaments. Once the student has accumulated 24 points, he is registered as a member of the National Forensic League.

"Those people that are not in speech are missing out because the club members are like a family, close knit," said Russ Cain, senior.

The Working Class

On the job training is what vocational clubs are all about. KHS had a number of vocational clubs and organizations. Some of the clubs included DECA, HECE, VOE and Industrial Arts.

DECA, which stands for Distributive Education Clubs Of America, was sponsored by Mrs. Marianne Powell. DECA is an organization in which students go to school half a day and work the other half. DECA put an emphasis on free enterprise and economic awareness.

HECE, which stands for Home Economics Cooperative Education, was sponsored by Mrs. Linda Barrett. HECE was also an organization where the students attended school half the day and worked the other half. HECE differs from DECA in the sense that home economics students have jobs such as floristry, fashion coordination and food services. At the end of the year, the students hosted a banquet for their employers.

Mrs. Barrett, sponsor, remarked, "HECE is a club in which the student is prepared for the future. The club lays a foundation for their career."

VOE, which is Vocational Office Education, was sponsored by Mrs. Kathy Hamilton. Students competed in office skills such as typing, shorthand and accounting. The students also learned basic office skills.

Yancy Allen, senior, said, "I am really glad that I got into VOE."

Industrial Arts is a very prospering club. In the last year, the club has grown to between ten and fifteen people. Students competed in such areas as woodshop, general industrial arts, photography and drafting.

Chip Fucik, senior, commented, "The club is great and Mr.Hood is cool."

SPIRITED

Cheerleading can be compared to movie stars. They look great but you never see the hard work that goes in to look that good.

The JV cheerleaders this year were Karin Whitlock, Crissy Stephenson, Sara Leonard and Christie Theriot.

The girls agreed that cheerleading is fun but is hard work too. Students have a view that cheerleading is a "blow off." The cheerleaders disagree. Crissy Stephenson said, "It's very hard but you get something out of it in return like being able to say-yeah we cheer for the Katy Tigers, what about you!"

Sara Leonard added, "We get sick of smiling and people get sick of seeing us smile and we get hot and bothered like the football players."

Karin Whitlock added, "We might not work out like the football players but we put just as much effort into cheerleading as they do."

ONES

This year the 1986-87 cheerleaders were proud to be cheering for the undefeated Tigers. The varsity cheerleaders were Lori Crenwelge, Renee Zellweger, Susan Cate, La Tonya Marsh, Leslie Ramsey, Amy Jenson, Michelle Robins, Christie Childs and mascot Kim Rhymes.

LaTonya Marsh said, "It was nice to be cheering for a winning team." Lori Crenwelge added, "It was our year!"

The cheerleaders' sponsor last year was Mrs. Patty Henson. She has been sponsoring them for four years. Cheerleading is not all fun and games, and there are times when neither party agrees with one another. Mrs. Henson said, "Like any , we do have disagreements but we have a special relationship between student and teacher."

Mrs. Hension said she teaches the girls not only to cheer but also "responsibility, dependability and leadership."

SPIRIT

This year's Tiger Tamers worked very hard to support the undefeated Tigers. They painted signs to put up in the commons to show support for the Tigers. The Tiger Tamers also baked cakes for the football and volleyball teams.

This year's Tiger Tamers were Dede Racicot — Lead Tamer, Kim Woller, Gloria Vela, Becky Rankin, Marianne Bishop, Jenny Lee, and Kristin Houg.

The Tiger Tamers had to try out for the position. They also had to have a written recommendation from an adult. On tryout day they were called in to have an interview by sponsor, Miss Harper, and other teachers.

Junior Becky Rankin said, "Being a Tiger Tamer is fun but also hard work."

Marianne Bishop added, "In being a Tiger Tamer you'd think it would interfere with school but it doesn't if you work really hard on both."

BUILDERS

GSL means "Good Sportsmanship League." Their objective is to promote good relationships and cooperation between schools. They exchange gifts at each game and the most common gift is a book or a container decorated with the other opponent's colors filled with candy.

KHS has eight members this year: Yvonne Salce, Kristi Norwood, Renee Zellweger, John Dehlin, Tammy Adamson, Gayle Coquat, Bill Crow and Danny Perez and sponsor, Mrs. Sharon McGlaun.

Although there are no specific regulations regarding the numbers, a school is allowed up to eight members.

John Dehlin said, "We have a lot of fun in G.S.L. It gives us a chance to meet other students from different schools."

The district dance was held on January 31 and was open to everyone, and all the GSL members from all the schools helped organize it.

DANCING SPIRIT

Senior Heather Williams said to herself, "I'm going to be one of them someday."

Them" is the drill team (also known as the Bengal Brigade). The Brigade is a performing group in which members (girls) perform and cheer at athletic events.

They also competed in the Houston Invitational Dance/Drill Team contest held February 7. Some of the things that the drill team sponsored included a dance, pot luck dinner, a progressive dinner, twinkie buddies, a spring trip and an end of the year banquet.

Girls try-out for Brigade in December by attending a one week workshop where they learn a kick and jazz routine. After the routine is learned they perform in front of three judges and are evaluated on their performance.

The number in Brigade varies from year to year. The Katy district limits the number of members to 60. Last year Brigade had 48 members and 2 managers. Next year there will be 59 members. The members do not have to maintain a certain GPA; however, they do have to maintain a 70 average in every class or they are placed on probation.

Melissa Semick, senior said, "When I got into the Brigade Training classes, I realized I liked dancing. I thought Brigade would be a lot of fun. I got to meet a lot of people and go to a lot of places. Being on drill team made the year a lot more fun."

The officers included: Colonel — Stacia Glenn, Lieutenant Colonel — Debi Frazier, Major — Tricia Orsak, Lieutenants — Kristie Eichelberger and Pam Petillon, president — Lesley Ross, first vice-president — Heather Williams, second vice president — Stacey Scott, Treasurer — Kim Theriot, Secretary — Melissa Semick, Spirit Chairpersons — Dionne Gross and Tami Warken and sponsor — Patty Henson.

Mrs. Henson has been sponsoring drill team for six years and she said, "This is my fourth year with drill team at Katy High."

Senior Tami Warnken said, "Drill Team is a lot of fun. I am excited that I got to represent Katy in a fun way. Dancing is a lot of fun on the Brigade."

Not all Brigade members are dancers. Shannon O'Neill, senior, said, "I was on Brigade my sophomore year and I did not like it that much but I have been manager for the last two years and really enjoyed it. This way I am part of the group without the hassle."

WRITE AWAY

Quill and Scroll is the International Honorary Society for High School journalists. The society serves several purposes including recognizing outstanding journalists.

Quill and Scroll also advances the standards of the profession of journalism by developing better journalists and the club instills an ideal of scholarship in the student.

In order to become a member, the student must meet certain requirements. First of all, the student must be of junior or senior classification. Secondly, the student must be in the upper-third of his class. The potential member also requires a recommendation from his supervisor.

In 1986-87, the members of the Katy High chapter were Sri Gogineni, senior; Yvonne Salce, senior; Traci Holloway, senior; and Pam Petillon, senior.

"This organization has helped me to become interested in journalism as a career," Pam Petillon commented.

The Art Club began the year showing their creativity by painting the mural for the Katy Hospital children's ward. The Art club got their picture in the Katy Times and received a lot of compliments for their efforts.

Art Club officers were Jennifer Stahl — president, Katy Goad — vice president, Bernie Meinen — secretary, Chris Goad — reporter, Michael Dail — historian, and sponsor, Mrs. Alice Ross.

After their success with the mural, the Art Club celebrated by going to the Galleria, where they ice-skated. Each member received $10 from the treasurer.

Bernie Meinen said, "I had a great time! I hope we do it again."

The goal of the Art Club is to have a great button sale," Jennifer Stahl said.

The Art Club sold buttons for the Katy and Taylor game and Valentine's Day.

UPPER CLASS

National Honor Society is a highly regarded organization. To be a member, a student must have maintained a 3.75 grade point average. In addition, a student must have been recommended from the faculty. The faculty is then asked to make their recommendation based on the students' conduct, service and leadership in school and community.

Society member Jennifer Santogrossi said, "Honor Society is fun sometimes, like at Christmas, but to be in it takes a lot of hard work."

Once a member, students had to put in four hours of independent community service such as working in a church, hospital or a nursing home, according to sponsors Alice Ross and Darla Hall.

NHS had 45 members last year. Each member had to pay a $3.00 fee.

"It is a real honor to be in NHS, but I have to agree that it is a lot of work," Chad McMillan said.

The Math Honor Club, formerly known as Mu Alpha Theta, is a club which recognizes those who excel in the mathematics field. In contrast to many honor clubs, the Math Honor Club has few requirements for membership. One has to maintain at least a "B" average in Algebra II, trigonometry and calculus.

The 1986-87 Math Honor Club was sponsored by Mrs. Mary Arnold and Mrs. Beverly Leacock. Officers for the 86-87 year included Lloyd Sitkoff, president and Jim Goldsmith, vice-president.

"We use our skills to help others with math through a tutoring program. The club is educational and fun," remarked Goldsmith .

EXOTIC SPEECH

Out of all the clubs at KHS four of them stand out; they are the Spanish, German, French and Latin clubs. These clubs consist of foreign language students who want to "promote their new found language," a student said.

Jennifer Burdette, second year Spanish club member said, "Spanish club's cool because it gives you the opportunity to learn new . . . uh . . . 'phrases' to 'share' with your friends."

The foreign language clubs participated in many activities throughout the year such as the annual Christmas party where all the clubs gather to share good spirit. Krislen Barnes, French club member, commented that the party was "more fun than I thought it would be."

The Spanish club had speakers come and talk to them throughout the year about their language. The German club participated in Oktoberfest. All the clubs participated in the KISD language fair held in March.

Tammy Fajkus, said the German Club "is a remarkable club to belong to. It's good socially as well as mentally. Being president gives me 'power' to put in my two cents. But most of all it's fun."

LEADERS

"The most important aspect of the entire year is that we've all had a great time," said John Dehlin .

"The Student Council has been given the opportunity to not only benefit our school, but our community as well. As representatives of Katy High, our job is to uphold the traditions of our school," remarked Jim Goldsmith .

This year's sponsor of the Student Council is Mr. Bruce Richards, whose time and patience kept the year running smoothly. The officers are President John Dehlin, Vice-president Jim Goldsmith, Treasurer Chad McMillan, Secretary Michelle Lusby, Scrapbook committee chairman Jennifer Stahl, Safety committee chairman Chris Goad, and Smile committee chairman Michael Dail. The Student Council met every Tuesday and Thursday before school to discuss and plan upcoming projects.

Council member Gina Vierling said, "Student Council this year was so terrific because of the togetherness we experienced and the benefits received from team work."

This year's Student Council was involved in such activities as selling candy apples, computer match-ups, and weekly teacher appreciation projects. They also sold carnations for Valentine's Day and sponsored the Hawaiian Dance.

Christians Don't Just Pray

Being an athlete can have its ups and downs and that's why there is a Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

"FCA is there to help athletes with family problems or whatever is bothering them. The group is there to listen," Wil Adams said.

The FCA usually met twice a month and discussed the Bible, talked about their lives, had refreshments and "generally just met to be together," said Coach Ray Biles , sponsor.

"The FCA sold white t-shirts with a tiger head on them and we also sold the red District Championship t-shirts," Chad McMillan said. The boys hoped to have earned enough money to enable several members to attend a summer conference in Colorado.

Not only do the boys participate in FCA, but the girls do also. The girls' FCA officers are Kim Conner — president, Tricia Orsak — vice president, Jennifer Rhoads — treasurer, Kim Rhymes — public reporter, and Tammi Kirk — secretary. Mrs. Susie McAdams is the girls' FCA sponsor.

"I think the FCA is great. It's like a big family when you go to the meetings," Sherri Thompson said. "You get to talk and open up. You also get to share your thoughts about God or yourself," she added.

TAFFY, A STICKY SITUATION ?

Taffy? Most people think of a sticky, chewy candy, but KHS knows different. TAFE is an organization designed to stimulate interest in education. According to the sponsor, Mrs. Meilly, there is a shortage of teachers in our educational system. Mrs. Meilly felt that young people should be directed into the teaching field.

"I feel that this club will help me prepare for my future career. I also feel that teachers should have an organization just like any other group," said senior Gina Vierling , of the Texas Association of Future Educators.

"Despite the fact that we are a new group, we really haven't faced much opposition," said vice-president Kim Hunt .

This year's officers are President Tricia Orsak, Vice-president Kim Hunt, and Secretary Michelle Ory. TAFE went to the district conference and ran for office. The KHS sector won the office of historian. In an attempt to raise money for the next conference, the organization sold candy.

Senior Tricia Orsak stated, "Surprisingly, we've had a lot of interest in this group."

An equal number of boys and girls were involved in this organization. They will have meetings during the summer to discuss goals for the upcoming year. One of their main goals was to establish a course in education. Students would attend classes for one semester and in the following semester, they would be placed in actual first or second grade classrooms.

GET TECHNICAL

"Industrial Cooperative Training is an excellent course for those young men and women who think they know what profession they would like to be involved with when they graduate," said club sponsor and class teacher Robert Fields.

ICT is also involved with a national club named Vocational Industrial clubs of America. "If you choose not to decide, you still have made a choice," said senior Mike Barker.

Some of the on-the-job training careers are auto body repair, paint shop assistant, automobile repair, print shop assistant, automobile mechanic assistant, heavy equipment mechanic assistant, water treatment, plant assistant, and orthodontic assistant.

"ICT is a good opportunity in learning about the work field," said Scott Sanders, senior.

ICT is a two-year training program carried on through the cooperation of the school and local industrial establishments.

"It is a good learning experience for us to get out and have a good training job," senior Lisa Collins stated.

Students receive actual work experience in their chosen occupations through enployment each afternoon under the supervision of trade competent employers.

Mr. Fields said, "Each morning the school provides individual instruction in the technical aspects of the student's job in a specially scheduled class conducted by a teacher-coordinator." Mr. Fields added, "This class is a very studious and well behaved class."

Photojournalism taught the students enrolled to work independently taking pictures which editors of yearbook had assigned. "The photographers also developed and printed their own pictures," Mrs. Lorrie Crow, sponsor, said.

The class this year was two semesters long and had nine students enrolled. "It was a very demanding job which required a lot of after-school work, but it was a lot of fun if you didn't mind not being in the pictures," said Rob Williams, one of the head photographers. The other head photographer was Steve Horn.

The only requirement for the class besides much devoted time and hard work was that the student have a basic knowledge of photography.

"Photojournalism was a great class. It's a very important part of the yearbook production," said Shawn McCombs.

RIDE 'EM COWBOYS

According to honorary greenhand Cindy Horne, Ag is not just farming or cropping but a learning experience.

Being an FFA member this year meant being in one of the top chapters in the United States. At the 1987 FFA chapter convention, the Katy High chapter won a gold emblem putting them in the top two percent nationwide.

To be in FFA a student must have been enrolled in an agricultural class. Dues are $7 per year. In 1986-87 officers were President Ken Ullrich, Vice-president Kim Bobo, Secretary Mike Polk, Treasurer Chad Jensen, Reporter Kim Bartsch, Sentinel Susan Lindsey, Junior Advisor Mike Schroeder, Historian Charlotte Stacy, Parliamentarian Mike Rhoads, and Chaplin Allen Spielman.

Bryan Milligan said, "Ag is a great opportunity for students to learn new and different skills. It gives you a great sense of responsibility."

Horne added, "You learn how important agriculture and ag mechanics are to our country."

According to sponsor, Mr. Gerald Young, FFA is almost like a sport for every season. Members are kept busy all year round. In the fall, they are busy with leadership competitions. The spring holds judging competitions. Even the summers are filled with meetings and conventions.

Some of their activities this year included community service projects which won the FFA members a bronze medal. Livestock shows took up much of their time. However busy their schedule was, though, the FFA members always found time for the annual Katy FFA versus Taylor FFA softball game.

MEMORIES THAT LAST

"Working on the yearbook requires a lot of hard work and dedication, yet it is very rewarding," editor Yvonne Salce said. "We had the best time at yearbook camp," she added.

There were six editors and four copywriters on the staff. They were head editor and co-sports editor-Yvonne Salce, Student Life editor-Pam Petillon, Organizations editor-Dena Swaney, Academics editor-Tracey Burrow, Classes editor-Becky Rankin and Co-sports editor-Robb Scott.

The copywriters included Sri Gogineni, Hannah Krishniah, Judi Le and Rhonda Wyman.

"We have a hard working staff and since we did well at camp (placing first) I expected a lot from them," Mrs. Lorrie Crow, sponsor, said.

One can also read all about the other journalism publication, The Tiger Tribune. Get your newspaper, only 25 cents. The Tribune is a monthly publication that includes such topics as current events around campus and the town of Katy, concerts, sports, and many others.

Mari Allen, assisstant editor, said, "Being that we only have 20 days to put out the paper, it is important that everyone get along with not only each other but also our advisor."

"The twenty day calendar must be strictly adhered to or the paper will not come out on time," replied Mrs. Crow.

The Tribune cost approximately $350 per issue published, said Mrs. Crow. "Every member sells advertising to offset the price so that we are able to charge the students a low price of only 25 cents," she added.

"This is a very well-dressed, creative staff and I have enjoyed working with them," added Mari Allen.

SHOUT IT OUT

"The clean life is the good life. Some people think that you need drugs and alchohol to have fun, but they are wrong, because life is what you make out of it," remarked Jim Goldsmith, senior.

Students Helping Others Understand Themselves (SHOUT) was a program designed by the students at Katy High in the 1985-86 school year. The purpose of SHOUT is to increase the drug and alcohol awareness of the students in school. According to Goldsmith, the program was also created to act as counseling center for individuals who thought it neccessary to use drugs and alchohol.

"To say yes to drugs, is to say no to life," commented Tim Pepper, senior.

SHOUT members initiated several programs to aid them in their efforts. For example, peer counseling sessions were held after school on Wednesdays and Thursdays. Secondly, there was a drug awareness program held during lunches. Such programs were attended by guest speakers. Finally, SHOUT students also participated in Project Graduation and drug education programs.

"It's OK just to say NO," said Linda Garza, senior.

The 1986-87 program was sponsored by Mrs. Lynn Furman and Mrs. Rosemary Meilly. SHOUT officers included Lisa Bell, president; Candy Furman, vice president; Dianna Jones, secretary; Naz Omar, treasurer; Kim Hunt, student council representative and Jana Jolley, public relations officer.

"I feel that is our job to help those that need it," said Lisa Bell, junior.

Taking Action

Dr. Woodward has a lot ahead of her. This is her second year as superintendent at Katy Independent School District. She said, "I enjoy being superintendent at KISD!"

Although she does enjoy the job, being superintendent also means work. For instance the job includes emphasizing the importance of tutorials, working out financial problems, and overseeing projects.

The KISD administration staff helps operate the school smoothly and properly.

The Board of Trustees includes the following members: Charlie Cate, secretary; Alton Thompson, President; Bill Kellond, Vice-President; Bill Callegari, Treasurer; Harold Loveday, member, Mary Alice Wills, member, and Don Elder, member.

Providing Direction

A principal's job never comes to an end. This year's principals did a lot more than just disciplining students.

"In the second year of Dr. Woodward's administration I don't feel she is influencing the way we handle our school functions such as dances and pep rallies," said senior principal Kirby Iselt.

This year's principal staff has remained unchanged but there were changes in the way they handled discipline problems.

Robert Blankenship said, "The new classroom discipline system is working fine. Teachers are handling more of the minor problems that they used to send here and that makes my job a little easier, plus it gives me more time to look into the cases that need serious attention."

This year's principal staff was Principal Bill Haskett, Assistant Principal Tom Shields, Robert Blankenship, and Virginia Leiker.

"I think observing teachers does help improve teaching habits. It makes them aware of what they are doing wrong," said Mr. Haskett.

Mrs. Leiker, who is in charge of Project Graduation, said, "I think it will be more of a success than last year."

New Discipline Program

good discipline = good grades

"Most students honestly want to learn and they want to learn in a constructive atmosphere," commented Mr. Mike Ellaby, history teacher and golf coach.

As the new school year opened, the Katy Independent School District presented a new type of discipline program. The program was organized so that every class carried out basically the same rules.

Spanish teacher, Linda Smith, said, "I was very impressed with it. It's uniform across the school because everyone was using it."

The new rules that most teachers used were as follows: first offense — name on board (warning); 2nd offense — one check by name and 15 minutes after school; 3rd — two checks, 15 minutes after school, discipline form sent to principal; 4th — three checks, 30 minutes after school, call parents; 5th — four checks, sent to principal.

Ellaby concluded, "The students have responded in a positive way. Students are mature enough to realize that there is a relation between good discipline and good grades."

Holding down the fort

"The class is totally different whenever there is a substitute. I can usually get away with anything," said student Ed Oretega, senior.

It is true that substitute teachers may have one of the hardest jobs in the educational field. Being that they are new and not at the school on a regular basis, substitute teachers are somtimes vulnerable to popular pranks.

"Students take advantage of any opportunity to change the seating arrangements or leave the class early," said Gloria Vela, senior.

"The sub always seems to get the bad end of the deal, because students realize that he or she is new to the school as well as the class," said Kim Woller, senior.

In any respect, substitutes have always had good things to say about Katy students.

Spanish teacher, Mrs. Linda Smith commented, "In a positive note the students were well-behaved, quiet, and followed directions. On the negative side there was a lack of respect, inattentiveness, and failure to pay attention."

Getting the job done right

A secretary's job isn't always a "nine to five" work day. The day starts early in the morning and lasts until whenever she has finished her work. It certainly isn't just sitting around, answering telephones, and filing (whether it be papers or fingernails). Just ask any of the secretaries at Katy High School.

"Some of my duties include typing announcements, keeping the school calendar up-to-date, and sorting mail," said Mrs. Pat Harrell, secretary to Mr. Bill Haskett, whose primary responsibilities are to him.

Including the above duties, Harrell takes telephone messages, makes appointments, and handles correspondence for Mr. Haskett.

Other secretaries and clerical workers at Katy are Vita Stephens — secretary to Mr. Iselt; Denise Ehlert — financial clerk; Nel West — PBX; Louise Kruse — registrar; Emily Hegemeyer — counselor's secretary; Margaret Foster Mr. Shields and Mr. Blankensip's secretary.

Mrs. Kruse said, "We have a tremendous faculty that works for the betterment of the school and we have a great student body. All students and staff members, especially our very special and hard working secretaries, are very cooperative. They do whatever it takes to get the job done and done right."

Computer Assets

"The students at Katy are fantastic! I'd put them against any group, anywhere," said senior counselor, Mrs. Norene Lueders.

A counselor's responsibility is not only schedule changes. The main responsibility of a counselor is to be able to help the student get the most from his or her high school career.

"We do this by helping students choose courses appropriate to their interests and abilities," added Lueders.

It is imperative that the counselor encourage the student to take on new challenges. Lueders commented, "In order to do that, a counselor must help students with decision making, goal setting, and be available to counsel students regarding special and personal problems." She added, "A student who has a lot of problems will not do well in the classroom."

The use of computers has somewhat made a counselor's job easier. This year the school acquired a new Apple II computer to aid students with choosing a college.

It offers a wealth of information that we can present to the students," said Lueders.

Presently the computers have aided students in college and financial searching.

Checking It Out

"Trying to connect people with information that they need," was how Mrs. Betty Schmalz, head Learning Resource Specialist, described her job.

The school library has a lot more to offer than just books and print material.

"Audiovisual material such as models and study prints are also informational sources," Schmalz said.

"The library is a collection of all types of forms of information. One of the LRS's main goals is to acquaint the students with all that is available to him or her," Schmalz said.

"Bringing people and information together is important since we live in an informational age," concluded Schmalz

Accidents Will Happen

"From now on all incoming freshmen will need proof of mumps immunization," said school nurse, Mrs. Carolyn Parrat. "Although so far we haven't had any problem with it," she added.

Students attending school are required to be updated on specific immunizations.

Parrat added, "Usually it's just the boosters that students need for high school. They also need proof of polio as well as Rubeola (Red measles) and Rubella (German measles)."

Parrat has been a nurse at Katy for three years. In her past experiences, she has heard such popular excuses as headaches, stomachaches, "I'm tired," and "I need a band-aid."

Approximately 60 students report to the clinic a day. "That's an increase from last year's average of 40-45 students," she said.

Parrat added, "Incidentally, only an average of 10 of those students are successful in going home."

A Sticky Situation

What is the story behind our clean school? Let's pay tribute to the unsung heroes of Katy High — the custodians and cafeteria workers. These are the people who keep our school in top-notch condition.

A major problem faced by cafeteria workers according to Milly Fletcher are, "There's gum all over the walls. It's really disgusting to look at."

Mary Surrat agreed. "Gum stuck on the wall is really a sign of immaturity."

"One of the highlights of my job is talking to the kids," commented Lupita Perez. "It's hard work, but the kids make it fun."

Custodian Mary Ann Mancilla said, "I like meeting people, but I don't like the mess they leave in the commons and in the halls. When they leave, I have to stay here and clean up after them."

Jerry Wallace, the supervisor of custodians, stated, "My job is to try to keep the whole school running smoothly and efficiently with all cleaniness possible."

On with the show!

With a full house of several hundred students, the second annual Talent Show, held April 22, proved to be a success for both the Student Council and the Drama Department.

Senior John Dehlin, student council president, said, "I'm not sure of the exact number, but we filled every seat and had people sitting all over the floor. It was packed!"

Master of Ceremonies for the evening was Chad Dixon McMillan, senior. Special guest appearances included Jim Goldsmith as "Donahue" on the subject of rock music and Dehlin as "The Juggler".

Twelve entries participated in the show. Everything from rock bands, comedy acts, and solos were performed.

There were several acts that were extremely entertaining," Dehlin said. "Jim Matejek's guitar solo presented a fine mixture of rock, rhythm, and soul to produce a rather classy arrangement," he added.

"Len Carroll played a mean beat box while Tex Steen pounded on the ivories," said Dehlin.

Winners included, first place-Jim Matejek (Guitar Solo); second place-Tex Steen (Piano/Song); third place-The Soulful White Boys, Len Carroll, Duane BirdBear, Troy Lentell (A Rap Song); fourth place-Mike Burks (Comedy Routine); fifth place-The Or-Durves, McMillan, Goldsmith, Dehlin, Burks, Bill Crow, and Trey Glaze. Best Band performance went to Mango Chutney.

Dehlin concluded, "As soon as I saw the line extending into the parking lot to buy tickets, I knew that it was going to be a great night. It was!"

Hooray for Hollywood

With Sweepstakes won from the Houston Invitational drill team competition in February, the Katy Bengal Brigade was ready for their annual Spring Show.

In the second semester of every school year the brigade puts on a spring extravaganza. Routines were made up and all three competition routines were put into the show. Miss Denise Maxwell's second period dance class also participated in the show by performing a modern jazz routine.

"We practiced everyday after school for about two weeks making up and perfecting different routines," Stacia Glenn, senior 'Hooray for Hollywood' was the theme for the Spring Show. "Everyone liked our idea for the theme. Spring Show was really a lot of fun this year," stated Tricia Orsak, senior

All of the dances were centered around the theme. Such songs were used as 'Singing in the Rain', Grease I and Grease II.

"The Spring Show was the best show we have put on in awhile. The audience thought it was so neat the way the seniors waved 'goodbye' at the end," senior Stacey Scott said.

Sand and Sun!

Beach! Beach! Beach!

That was where most of Katy's high school students spent their Spring Break '87. One popular idea was to rent a beach house or stay in a hotel on the beach.

For many seniors, it would be one of the last times for old friends to be together.

"My friends and I rented a beach house on Surfside for the whole week. It was a blast!" said Kim Woller, senior.

"We had so much fun even though we didn't get any sleep," she added.

South Padre Island found itself overcrowded with many high school as well as college students.

David Walters, senior, a Padre Island Survivor, commented, "Padre was fantastic! We had so much fun. We went down to Mexico for five days to party!"

Walters added, "There were so many people there, approximately 250,000. We met a lot of people from different colleges."

Senior Cindy Horne described her Spring Break '87, "Spent a week at Surfside, getting sunburned, meeting gorgeous guys, and building human pyramids."

All and all the week proved to be the best ever for all students. Galveston Island's Jamaica Beach brought in hundreds of students from all schools to enjoy the water and sun.

"The weather was good, and I got sunburned. We spent most of the time at Surfside and Jamaica Beach," said Woller.

"I've never had more fun. Staying out late and being with my friends, created a lot of good memories," said Gloria Vela, senior.

What will students remember most about Spring Break '87?

"We had a lot of food, but when it ran out, Gloria brought a cake and everyone ate it," said Horne.

Traci Holloway, senior, felt her best memory was, "Going to the Renaissance Festival at Market Square and watching James (Coons) try Polar Bear."

"I liked becoming closer to my friends, even though some of them take long showers, and I hated the big, dead jellyfish that I stepped on about five times a day," said Woller.

Switching Sides

When the word 'rivalry' comes to mind at KHS it usually has to do with Taylor High School. Not this time however. The huge rivalry between the Rebel Women and the Jukin' Juniors was put to the test on Thursday February 26 at Rhodes Stadium at the annual Powder Puff game.

Practice for the game was held every day from 4:30 until 6:00.

Senior Stacey Scott said, "Practicing for the Powder Puff game was a lot of fun because it usually rained and the coaches let us have mud fights."

The junior and senior football players had a few laughs also while they tried to teach the girls to play football.

Senior offensive line coach David Walters said, "It was the best played game ever. It got pretty rough in the end but it was all in fun."

The final score for the game was an expected senior victory of 12-6. Reneé Zellweger made both of the senior touchdowns.

"I thought it should've been a blowout," said senior receiver coach Danny Wiggins. He added, "We had three touchdowns called back. I admire the Rebel Women for not giving up their fight when they were down."

Many other festivities occurred during Powder Puff including the crowning of the Puff King, senior Mike Brast. Mike was voted king Monday at school preceeding the big game.

Tonya Thompson and Kim Scott juniors agreed that Powder Puff is a way to be 'just like one of the guys.'

Giving from the heart

On the day before Valentine's Day, nothing could be more heart-warming than to give blood.

Students from Katy High School generously gave a pint of blood on February 13 to help others. The total outcome was fairly good, as several students explained why they gave:

Ed Ortega, 12 — Because I thought it would be a nice Valentine's gift.

Gloria Vela, 12 — I felt it would be a good gesture.

Before giving blood, the students' blood pressure and blood type was taken.

Lisa Klaus, senior, described how it felt. "I was quite nauseated, weak and felt faint. Eventually I was on the verge of passing out."

Fortunately not everyone's experience was tragic. Vela added, "I would do it again because it wasn't as bad as I thought."

One more senior victory

First the Jukin' Juniors and the Rebel Women had their match at Rhodes Stadium in the annual Powder Puff game. Next came the Rebels and Just-us Juniors playing the Old Spice Volleyball Classic.

The Old Spice game is an exact turnaround of the Powder Puff game. Three coaches are picked from the varsity and junior varsity volleyball teams. These coaches prepare any junior or senior guy who wants to play volleyball and switch roles.

"It started out as a good game but as both sides got madder and tougher the game got long. It took 40 minutes just for the first game," Tharan Silvers, senior said.

Laura Ramm, Rebel head coach said, "It was just as much fun for us to watch the guys try and play volleyball, as it was for them to watch us try and play Powder Puff."

Football Debuts

Teams prove they can uphold "The Year of The Tiger"

After three harsh and fatiguing weeks of football practice, the players were finally able to make their debuts.

"The players worked so hard during spring training," Britt Ousterhout, sophomore, said. "I think that the Red and White Game gave us a chance to apply what we had learned."

The annual Red and White Game was held May 26. Kickoff time was at 7 p.m. sharp. Newly-elected captains for 1987-88, Todd Thompson, Joe Angerame, Brad Buss and Dube Yell led both teams to a closely fought game.

"Both teams played with a lot of energy and determination. Even though the Red team won, I think that when we put these two teams together next year, we will be unbeatable," Kevin Baker, White team player, said.

Myron Robinson, Red team player, said, "The final score, 15-14, may have left the Red team victorious; yet, with such a close game, I think both teams have a lot to be proud of."

Leading the Red team to victory was quarterback Brad Buss. Touchdowns for the Red team included Craig Hinkle's interception in which he ran it in for six points on the gridiron. Later, newcomer Eric Davis, sophomore, pulled off his hard-earned touchdown. A two-point conversion put the Red team on top.

Quarterback for the White team was Jeff Bennet, sophomore. Bennet used an option play to run the ball in for their first touchdown. Punter David Evans scored the extra point.

Sophomore Scott Phillips said, "The game was very successful. Most of that success was due to the team's fired-up attitudes and energy to play."

Though both teams went out on the field as contenders, they left the game realizing their full potential and looking forward to another "Year of the Tiger".

It's our turn to walk

Seniors head out for "Happy Trails"

As the year came to a close, the seniors came to realize that the reality of graduation was finally near. Looking back, many felt regret and sadness, yet they knew that this was the start of a new beginning. No longer would the security of high school be present.

In late May, the seniors received their caps and gowns from Jostens. Seating assignments for the graduation ceremony were given a week before the event. Invitation announcements had already been mailed and parties were a part of everyone's weekend.

After numerous class disputes on where and when to hold the graduation ceremony, the seniors voted on the Great Southwest Equestrian Center in Katy. On June 6 at 7 p.m. the ceremony began.

Valedictorian Margot Merek was recognized and she gave her speech. Salutatorian for the class was Dan Watters. Jim Goldsmith read the inspirational for the evening and a small group of seniors provided the music by singing, "We've Only Just Begun". Awarded Most Outstanding Senior Boy and Girl were Chad McMillan and Kristi Eichelberger.

The night was a success even though the rain put a damper on the evening. Many seniors were asked to express their feelings on graduation:

"Four hard years. I'm very glad it's over. I think everyone feels the same. Graduation will be a memory to last a lifetime."-Lori Benner

"I'm glad it's finally here. I'm going to miss all my friends, but I have good memories."-Jennifer Miller

"I'm excited — relief — get out — fantastic — dynamite!"-Paige Marini

"Graduation is the beginning of freedom and the end of lunch detentions — and I can't wait!"-Dedee Racicot

Anand Kuratti summed up the true meaning of graduation: "Graduation — a time of joy and celebration — a step forward in a needed direction in which to grow and succeed independently."

Tiger's Palace

Seniors gamble the night away

Following the graduation ceremony, many students attended the second annual Project Graduation party.

The party was designed to allow students to celebrate their achievement without the use of alcohol or drugs.

"The party was a blast!" Kim Woller said. "Nobody needed alcohol or drugs. We just wanted to be with all of our friends for the last time."

Prizes and gifts were donated from many Katy businesses as well as from parents. These prizes were given away every three minutes throughout the evening.

Wes Stephens, senior, said, "I was surprised that I even won anything. My two coupons to Landry's Seafood Restaurant was a pretty cool deal."

The theme of the party was "Tiger's Palace". The casino room was probably the most busiest area. Teachers and parents acted as card dealers as the students gambled away their play money. "I don't know what was up," said Rusty Robinson. "I gave all of my money to Yvonne Salce."

Other activities for the evening included bingo, dancing, a video arcade room and movies. Basketball and volleyball tournaments were held in the boy's gym. A decorated and lighted pathway led to the swimming pool.

Towards the end of the night (approximately 4 a.m.), 93Q radio station DJ, Hollywood Henderson, announced the auction. Typewriters, televisions, and hot air balloon rides went for millions and millions of dollars.

"I had $690,000 and I still couldn't bid on anything," said Ed Ortega.

After staying up all night, breakfast was served in the commons. Then it was time for the grand prizes. Some of the many winners included Chad McMillan — Honda Spree Scooter; Gina Vierling — Honda Elite Scooter; Rob Williams — two Transtar tickets to anywhere in the U.S.; Gloria Vela and Renee Zellweger — $300; Danny Wiggins — a jambox. Floral arrangements were also given away to Stacia Glenn and Doug Paben.

The party ended at 6:30 a.m. and everyone headed home with only one thing in mind — SLEEP!

The Year of the Tiger

As I write this closing note, I can't help but look back at all the good times put into this book.

This year has been outrageous! A lot of that credit goes to you. The students at Katy High have definitely made history for this town. I only hope this book has captured every remarkable moment.

For the past four years, I have been involved on the staff, but I feel that the 1986-87 Tiger Echo staff beats them all. Of course, I may be a little prejudiced. Each and every one of them pulled together and were able to produce another First Place award winning yearbook. I think that is an accomplishment in itself and they should all be very proud.

I would especially like to thank my photographers and close friends: Rob Williams, Steve Horn, and Ken Conrad. (I say 'my' because I don't want Rob to forget who the Boss is). Thanks guys for all the great times that included an endless number of harmless insults (directed towards Pam and me), countless humorous jokes (though obscene), and the ability to make me laugh as well as smile.

Thanks goes to Pam Petillon for helping me maintain my sanity. Together we survived the wild week spent at SFA summer camp, an unwanted IBM computer, and green slime on the walls.

A very, very special 'Thank You' to Mrs Lorrie Crow. She has not only been a great advisor but also a good friend. I am grateful to her for all the encouragement and support she has given me.

All and all, this book reflects both the spirit and pride at Katy High. I hope you have fun reading it.

Congratulations to the Senior Class of '87!

Best of luck!
